Anti-War Hearing Winds Up Amid Renewed Uproars

Committee Chairman Sees No Need For New Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities wound up its questioning of witnesses identified as representing anti-Viet Nam war groups, after tossing out two witnesses and a dozen spectators today.

"I see no need to continue the investigation further," said the acting chairman, Joe R. Pool, D-Tex.

"These hearings," he continued, "have fully revealed the nature of the groups and individuals. It is clear the key leadership of these groups is made up of hard-core Communists acting in behalf of foreign powers."

He dismissed all remaining witnesses who had been called to testify.

"I object," shouted Jerry Clyde Rubin of Berkley, Calif., who had sat in the hearing room for three days wearing a U.S. Revolutionary War-type uniform.

"I want to be heard," Rubin shouted. I came all the way from California and I want to make a statement."

Rubin was escorted from the room when he continued protesting after Pool ruled that he had been dismissed.

Pool indicated the committee will turn next to hearing witnesses in support of pending bills to punish those who attempt to interfere with movement of men or materiel to Viet Nam.

He said he hoped to get approval of the bills by the committee next week.

The two witnesses ejected from the hearing earlier today were Steven Cherkoss and Steven C. Hamilton, both of Berkeley, Calif. They were ordered from the room when they refused to leave the witness stand after testifying.

Cherkoss was arrested. Hamilton merely escorted to the door as the committee sought to wind up questioning of members of groups fighting what they term U.S. aggression in Viet Nam.

Both Cherkoss and Hamilton denounced the committee as "racist, cowardly, yellow-bellied reactionaries." Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., the committee chairman, had used the term "yellow-bellied cowards" to describe some of the subpoenaed witnesses.

Hamilton was led from the room after he insisted on introducing as "people's exhibits" figures on the size of profits of big corporations.

Another half dozen spectators, who burst into applause as Hamilton was taken out, were lead, pulled and dragged from the room and taken to a downtown police station.

Earlier, five women and a man were hauled off when they rose to scream "murderer" at a retired Marine Corps general

Chicago Housing Gets Test

CHICAGO (UPI) —Dr. Martin Luther King sent out biracial teams today to "test" 100 real estate offices in Chicago neighborhoods. If realtors flunk, he said, the city will have a giant demonstration on Sunday.

Among the neighborhoods to be tested for agreement to open occupancy was all-white Bridgeport, where Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley lives.

Daley himself was reported considering a television appeal to Chicagoans on race relations. He was also reported considering possible legal moves to stop the demonstrations which have drawn violence from residents of all-white communities.

King announced at a mass meeting last night that if the test teams do not get pledges from real estate dealers to cooperate with Negroes, Chicago will see its biggest open occupancy demonstration on Sunday.

Bridge Board Delays Second Deck Planning

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors deferred decision today on granting a $245,000 contract to Ammann and Whitney for preliminary plans for a second deck to the bridge.

The board decided it wanted to be sure the New York engineering firm's proposal was at a fair price and how much of the proposed planning it was advisable to undertake at this time. Directors voted 9-1 to refer the proposal to consulting engineer Clifford Paine for advise on these points.

The dissenting vote was cast by Stephen C. Leonaudakis of San Francisco, who objected to the project on two grounds.

He said Ammann and Whitney in a letter in September, 1962, had offered to do the job for $70,000. He also questioned the directors' legal right to spend the money planning a project which he said might itself be illegal.

District Gen. Mgr. James Adam and other directors said

Gallinas Creek's Revival Inspected

By RICHARD LYTTLE

As recently as a year ago, Gallinas Creek was a tidal mudway that sometimes stank with raw sewage. Today it is a new addition to Marin's waterways.

Some of those who made the change possible took a look at it today.

Dredging for the $270,340.12 project is about a week from completion. Water throughout the channel is six feet deep at mean low water, quite a difference from a few months back when boats had to await high tide to enter the channel.

The project extended 13,200 feet from the site of Joe's Boat Landing to the Marin County Civic Center.

James Weise, civil engineer with the county public works department, the man who drew up the allignment for the canal, took his boat the length of the job today, leaving from the landing behind his home at 821 Vendola Drive in Gallinas Village.

With him were two members of the advisory committee of the county service area, Vernon Rasmussen and A. H. Leigh.

Leigh recalled that he first began looking into the possibility of dredging the canal about 10 years ago. He headed a committee of the Gallinas Club, assigned to study the possibility.

It was not until two years ago, however, that supervisors created a county service area. Residents at one time hoped that the State Division of Small Craft Harbors would finance some of the cost, but this plan was discarded and property owners decided to go it alone.

"It is the only dredging job in the county that has been financed this way," Wiese said.

Rasmussen recalled that it took only a week to get the required signatures of owners of 60 per cent of the property for formation of the assessment district.

The sewage problem was solved about the same time the dredging work began, with the old Gallinas Community Service District system finally being repaired and joined with Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District's plant.

There were boys swimming in the canal today.

"The fish are coming back," Rasmussen said. He predicted bass fishing soon.

Home owners in Gallinas Village and Northbridge are rejuvenating an old dock. Several already have boats tied behind their homes. Stanford B. Weise, owner of land on the north side of the canal, plans a commercial yacht harbor. An island in the canal near Northbridge, may also be developed into a yacht harbor, Wiese said.

The Shelmaker Co.'s dredge Vanguard will probably leave in a week, Wiese said.

Riot Squads Keeping Eye On Smoldering San Jose

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Specially trained riot squads kept an anxious eye on a five block section of East San Jose that erupted in a rock throwing, fire-setting melee last night.

About 200 police officers, helmeted and armed with shotguns, sealed off the predominantly Negro area after an estimated 200 persons, mostly teen-agers, threw jagged pieces of concrete at police officers and set at least three fires.

"All available manpower" was thrown into the area yesterday when widespread unrest resulted from the arrest of a Negro suspect on a reckless driving charge.

Officers said they had the touchy situation "fairly well under control" shortly after midnight, but added that "you never can tell about these things."

There was little or no structural damage to buildings in the area, but streets were littered with glass and debris from the disturbance.

Injured were police Officers Phillip Nortan and Dave Harrison. Officers said they were hit by rocks thrown by angry onlookers as they arrested Charles Smith, 23, San Jose, who allegedly resisted arrest.

Police Alarm Broadcast For Motel Robbers

Victims Identify Suspects From Wanted Photos

A state-wide alert for arrest of two ex-convicts charged in the $1,000 armed robbery at Edgewater Inn Motel on Wednesday was issued today by Corte Madera police.

Suspects are Ronald H. Berg, 21, of San Francisco, and Paul Allen Poindexter, 27, a native of Virginia. Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court issued arrest warrants after the pair allegedly were identified by victims or witnesses through use of composite drawings and identification photographs.

Judge Smith set bail for each at $11,000.

Berg, already a fugitive after having jumped $2,750 bail in Marin Municipal Court on charges of attempted burglary and concealing stolen property, is described as about six foot-one inch tall, and weighing 190 pounds.

Poindexter is a slim blond, about five feet 11 inches tall and weighing 170 pounds.

Corte Madera police said one man, dressed in dark clothes and speaking with a southern drawl, entered the motel office at 12:05 a.m. and drew a Lugar pistol on night clerk Milo Johnson, 61.

He hog-tied Johnson with an electrical cord, then was joined by a second gunman. Richard V. Spenser of Redwood Valley, Mendocino County, entered to confirm reservations and was robbed of $100, police said. He also complied with an order to fetch his wife, waiting outside.

The gunmen took between $800 and $900 in cash and checks

Obscene Letter To Luci

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Federal Bureau of Investigation agents arrested a Philadelphia man today on charges of threatening the life of President Johnson, sending obscene letters to the President's recently married daughter, Luci, and threatening injury to Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and his wife, Mary.

Joe D. Jamieson, head of the FBI office here, identified the man as Leonard Fairorth, 26, an investigator in the city's communicable diseases division of the Health Department.

The indictment charges Fairorth, married and a graduate of Muhlenberg College in Allentown, Pa., in 1962, with sending 27 letters, including one threatening to kill the President, and another to injure Scranton and his wife.

Jameson said the man also is charged with sending a defamatory letter to Luci Johnson Nugent, the President's youngest daughter, just returned from her honeymoon, and similar letters to other persons.

President Kicks Off Tour With Water Pollution Talk

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — President Johnson opened a fast-moving speechmaking trip into New York and New England today by telling a Buffalo audience the nation is well on its way to purifying the waters of the Great Lakes.

The three-day tour takes the President to five states and to Canada for a meeting with Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

The first of his long series of speeches dealt with a variety of other domestic affairs such as a medical care for the aged and education for the young, as well as the matter of pollution.

His schedule here included a cruise aboard a Coast Guard cutter to see the pollution of Lake Erie.

He said the pollution is a result of the country's abundance.

Johnson announced that the Interior Department today gave a go-ahead to the Rand Development Corp. for construction on the shores of Lake Erie at Buffalo of a new type of filter system.

Marin College Trustees Looking To Bond Issue In Money Squeeze

By FRANK FARRARA

Caught in a financial squeeze by booming enrollment, Marin Junior College District trustees are looking toward a bond issue to finance facilities.

Acting College President Irwin P. Diamond, who viewed the financial picture as "critical," recommended last night that the board put a bond issue on the November ballot. He did not specify any amount.

Trustees felt a bond issue should be voted on at a special election, when it would not be "lost in the shuffle" with other issues. However, they took no action, saying they are awaiting a recommendation from the citizen finance committee.

Planning Director James W. Duke told the board in April that enrollment is creating a need for facilities faster than they can be financed by the district's 10-year, pay-as-you-go, 35 cent tax override program.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy said the need for financing is "highly critical," and that she has favored "moving to another way of financing" for some time.

"Let's do it when conditions would be most favorable," said Trustee Theodore C. Wellman.

Members of the citizens finance committee met with Mrs. Deedy at the college last night but lacked a quorum. Chairman Daniel C. Davis said the group would need more time for study before it would make its recommendation.

A consensus of committee members present was that November might not be the best time to get a bond issue approved.

"We'd be well advised to wait for a special election," said Wellman.

Diamond said that even if a bond issue were defeated in November, "it would alert the voters to the pressing need."

Chairman Robert E. Rogers felt the district would gain more by waiting than "by pressing madly ahead" in the November general election.

Mrs. Deedy said the state is almost fiscally irresponsible when it comes to financing junior colleges. She said the $200 million state bond issue for higher education "has nothing for junior colleges."

Fugitive Arrested Quietly

Lemay

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Elusive international fugitive Georges Lemay was arrested today by FBI agents in a downtown gambling casino and whisked off to jail so quietly employees didn't even notice the capture.

Lemay escaped from a Florida jail Sept. 21, 1965, after being arrested the previous May with an assist from the Early Bird communications satellite.

Lise

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced the arrest in Washington and said Lemay's wife Lise, 29, was taken into custody at the couple's Las Vegas residence.

The couple was taken to Clark County jail pending a hearing this afternoon.

French Want No U. S. Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The De Galle government has told U.S. diplomats it will not allow American military forces back on French soil in peacetime.

This is part of what Washington sources described today as a tough position taken by the French government in negotiations following its eviction notice against North Atlantic French Territory.

The only circumstances under which the Americans could return would be in the event of a French declaration of war, the French Foreign Minister, Louve de Murville, is reported to have stated.

Wallace Fights Guidelines

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Gov. George Wallace yesterday declared war on the federal school desegregation guidelines and asked the Alabama Legislature to give him a $36 million war chest to carry out his rebellion.

Wallace said he would disburse the money to school systems that lose federal aid because of failure to comply with the guidelines.

The lawmakers, meeting in joint session, applauded wildly when Wallace said:

"The bureaucrats of power can take our federal money—and they know what they can do with it."

Experts Team For Speck?

CHICAGO (UPI)—Prosecutors today studied a request that they join the defense in selecting a blue ribbon team of mental experts to examine Richard Speck, accused killer of eight nurses.

Speck

The unusual request was made yesterday by public defender Gerald W. Getty.

Speck, 24-year-old sometime seaman, sat in a chair before Judge Herbert C. Paschen of Circuit Court and stared blankly at a table.

Under the proposal, the panel members would not be called upon to testify against each other in case of disagreement but would file a majority and minority report.

Paschen did not comment on the request, but continued the hearing until Sept. 1,

The car struck a curbing and flipped into the water, the coroner's office reported. Divers recovered the car and the body from 35 feet of water.

State Welfare Chief Row Looms

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's newly appointed welfare chief said today he isn't the least dismayed at stepping into a tough job amid controversy over the resignation of his predecessor.

"I've built a reputation as an administrator ... and this is just a bigger, more exacting job," said Newton R. Holcomb, appointed yesterday to succeed the resigned John F. Wedemeyer effective Sept. 1.

California social welfare programs provide aid to some 1.15 million persons at an estimated cost of $1 billion a year in state, local and federal funds.

Announcement of Holcomb's appointment was accompanied by signs of a growing hassle over Wedemeyer's resignation, handed in Monday after a sharp dispute with Gov. Brown.

Percy Steele of San Francisco, a member of the State Welfare Board, accused Brown of working with the County Supervisors Assn. of California to "engineer" Wedemeyer's resignation.

Calling the incident "one of the most deplorable things I've ever seen happen in government," Steele — a Brown appointee—said he felt the Democrat chief executive wanted Wedemeyer out of the post because "the governor is running scared" in his November race for re-election against Republican Ronald Reagan.

Steele reported other members of the board "were shocked and disheartened" by Brown's criticism of Wedemeyer and the welfare chief's subsequent resignation. The board cancelled a scheduled meeting today to consider the resignation, said Steele, because members wanted to meet first with Brown.

Steele declined to say whether board members were discussing protest resignations, adding: It's a little premature to say that—we may all be fired." Until 1963, the board set welfare policy, but that year the legislature reduced it to an advisory body.

Brown said Holcomb was selected from among five candidates nominated by the County Supervisors Assn., which has been sharply critical of Wedmeyer's reign. Holcomb is a former consultant on welfare matters to the association.

Brown recently had chided Wedemeyer publicly for the welfare official's criticism of the association's "Cal-Flex" plan, a program designed to give local government greater control over welfare policy.

The immediate cause for the split between the governor and Wedemeyer — a member of Brown's first cabinet — was a welfare department plan for contracts to private groups to inform welfare recipients about available aid. Brown said he didn't believe "in paying welfare recipients to spend their time in working for more welfare benefits." Wedemeyer, in resigning, called the governor's opinion "distorted."

NEWTON R. HOLCOMB
Aligned with supervisors

Holcomb, 54, currently is assistant executive officer of Santa Clara County. He previously was the county's top welfare official, as was Wedemeyer.

He said he believes "there's a great deal of room for improvement" of county-state relations on welfare, and plans a meeting with county officials soon after he takes office.

"I think we can give the counties more flexibility," added Holcomb. He said he was in "basic harmony' with the general concept of the Cal - Flex plan.

Soledad Inmate Move Planned

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Final arguments were made today in the evidentiary hearing by U.S. District Judge George B. Harris into conditions in the so-called "strip cells" at Soledad Prison.

Robert H. Donnelly, deputy superintendent of Soledad, testified yesterday that the man responsible for the federal investigation would be transferred to another institution.

The inmate, Robert Charles Jordan Jr., 27, petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus and asked for an injunction and damages against the State of California, claiming he was subjected to cruel and unusual punishment in a strip cell.

Also, Donnelly said, if Jordan ever got into disciplinary difficulties again, there would "always be the question" of whether or not prison officials and guards were "taking retribution or revenge."

Airman Captured

Airman Daniel L. Sizek, who has been absent without leave from the 41st Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base since Aug. 13, was arrested in San Francisco yesterday and returned to Hamilton today, according to base officials.

Cranston Moves Out Of Warschaw Building

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —Controller Alan Cranston has complied with the eviction notice served him by the angry husband of Southern California Democratic Chairman Carmen Warschaw.

Louis Warschaw demanded that Cranston vacate his rent-free campaign headquarters at the Subway Terminal Building because he was working against his wife. Mrs. Warschaw was defeated by Assemblyman Charles Warren in the balloting for state Democratic chairman last weekend.

Cranston complied yesterday, moving his headquarters to the adjacent Crocker - Citizens National Bank Building.

According to Warschaw, the difficulties between the two began when Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Cranston failed to give Mrs. Warschaw the support they had promised her in her bid for the chairmanship.

Brown said Thursday he would offer Mrs. Warschaw a high position in his campaign organization.

"But," said he at an impromptu news conference during a tour of the Santa Monica Mountains, "I want her to cool off a bit first."

Four Annexation Plans Approved

Annexations of four lots to the Novato Sanitary District were voted by the district board last night.

The lots are those of Fred L. Steele at 806 Diable Avenue, Ted Schuman Chevrolet west of Highway 101 at Lamont Avenue, William H. Napier at 1021 Simmons Lane, and Clifford Jackson at 885 Eucalyptus Avenue.

Next month's meetings of the board were set for Sept. 12, 15 and 29.

Diplomacy On Again

VIENNA (UPI) — Austria and Singapore have agreed to re-establish diplomatic relations.

Mass Prank Hits Baby Sitter Unit

The meeting of the Pleasant Valley Baby Sitting Co-Op ended on a flat note last night.

When the women left the home of Mrs. K. D. Dorsett at 767 Sutro Avenue, Novato, at 11:30 p.m., seven cars that were parked on the street had flat tires on the left side, according to Novato police. The valve caps and cores had been removed.

The only thing that disturbed the meeting was the barking of her two watch dogs in the back yard, Mrs. Dorsett said.

Cohen Gets Volunteer Crusade Job

Milton S. Cohen, president of Marin County School Superintendents Assn. has taken over another top county job as chairman of the 1966 United Bay Area Crusade campaign in Marin public schools.

Cohen, superintendent of Larkspur School District, was named Marin chairman to succeed Dr. Bert C. Corona, who recently resigned as superintendent of San Rafael City Schools to accept a like post in Modesto.

Approaching the opening of the annual campaign next month, Cohen already is building a volunteer Crusade organization in each of the 84 public schools of the county.

Cohen was a member of the board of directors of the United Crusade and active in Crusade-supported Boy Scouts in Inyo County before coming to Marin in 1962.

DEFENSE CLIMBER

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and his party reached the summit of 14,410-foot Mt. Rainier in Tacoma, Washington, today after camping overnight at the 10,000-foot level. No difficulties were encountered as the climbers moved across the steep snow fields at the top. (AP Wirephoto)

Company Turns Down Redwood Park Offer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Miller-Rellim Redwood Co. has rejected a proposal that it stop tree cutting in a proposed park area in return for compensation.

The area, proposed for a redwood national park, includes 18,000 acres of redwood trees in Del Norte County, Calif.

William F. Ragan, the firm's attorney, said yesterday that Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall was advised orally of the decision and a letter of confirmation has been addressed to Udall by Harold Miller, the company's president.

Ragan said Udall proposed that the firm suspend logging operations in the area until next year's Congress had adjourned.

Udall's plan was that Miller-Rellim would receive compensation from private foundations for any loss in changing its operations.

Options for purchasing the land sought for the park also were mentioned by Udall, Ragan said.

The attorney replied that the company could not move its operations unless it shut down its mill, and added that the offer did not include compensation for company employees or for related Del Norte County industries that depended on the mill.

Ragan said the company offered to negotiate with the Interior Department on "a realistic price" for the acreage. He estimated the value at $90 million.

Park Service spokesmen earlier told the Senate Parks subcommittee three appraisals have resulted in a $55 million estimate for the acquisition of the Miller-Rellim property and all other private land in the 43,000 acre proposed park.

THREAT

tion, Jamieson said. He was held in $50,000 bail by U.S. Dist. Judge Alfred Luongo.

Judge Luongo had impounded the indictment pending Fairorth's arrest here today.

The indictment charges 27 violations of federal statues, including extortion, a threat to kill the President, and postal law violations.

The Department of Justice in Washington said the charges in case of conviction, carry penalties ranging up to 20 years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine on each count.

Fairorth was brought before U.S. Commissioner Edward Furia today for purposes of identification as the man named in the indictment. His attorney, Norman Oshtry, told Furia that the accused was in the courtroom, and that he was the person indicted.

Shane Creamer, assistant U.S. attorney here, told the commissioner that Fairorth would be taken before Judge Luongo where a formal request would be made for a mental examination of the defendant.

Oshtry said that he would at that time seek a reduction of the bail. Furia adjourned the proceding.

A postal inspector said that the 27 letters covered a period beginning Sept. 29, 1965, and ending Aug. 5, 1966.

Of the 27 letters, 15 were described in the indictment as obscene and defamatory post cards, four as obscene and threatening, one a threat to kill the President, and one a threat to injure the governor of Pennsylvania and his wife.

The letters all were signed with actual names and addresses of living Philadelphia area residents.

How the letters were traced to Fairorth was not disclosed.

Jamieson said Fairorth is an active member of the American Civil Liberties Union. He said he was campus organizer for the ACLU and obtained speakers for college lecture programs.

Fairorth joined the Health Department here in 1964, where his wife, Jeannette, is employed as a nurse.

Jamieson said also that Fairorth is a member of the U.S. Air Force Reserve.

Officials at Muhlenberg College said Fairorth, a premed student, was graduated from there with a bachelor of science degree in 1962.

Fairorth was an above-average student, they said, who had no record of academic or social disciplinary action taken against him.

"In addition," the FBI said, "the indictment charged Fairorth with directing obscene and threatening letters to various individuals who has publicly been identified as favoring the United States position in Viet Nam, and on one occasion he is charged with sending an obscene and defamatory letter to a young girl who was identified in a local Philadelphia newspaper as being the financee of an American serviceman killed in action in Viet Nam."

Salon Owner Files Suit In Blaze Death

A Tiburon beauty salon owner has filed suit in Marin Superior Court to force an insurance company to pay $40,000 double indemnity on a life insurance policy he took out on his partner, Robert P. Gibbs-St. George, who died as a result of a house fire Oct. 24, 1964.

Paul Edwards, owner of Paul Edwards Beauty Salon, 1690 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon, alleges Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York has refused to pay the double indemnity on a policy he took on St. George on Oct. 1, 1964, the same month St. George died.

Edwards' attorney, R. L. Robinson of San Francisco, said today the company refused the payment on allegation that the policy application failed to provide complete information of illnesses St. George had suffered.

He said contesting the payment is based on that technicality, not on any alleged criminal act.

St. George, 40, and Edwards both were overcome by smoke in the former's home at 2298 Paradise Drive, Tiburon. Edwards, of 2078 Paradise Drive, survived, but St. George never recovered consciousness He died four days later.

testifying on the need for legislation to curb Americans who help the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese.

"He's one of the murderers in Viet Nam," the six shouted as retired Brig. Gen. James D. Hittle testified.

The six, screaming abuse at the committee and Hittle, were hauled from the room by police.

Hittle, now director of national security for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, told the committee proposed legislation to curb antiwar activities "is long overdue."

Rejecting the argument that the legislation is an "invasion of people's freedom," Hittle said: "Those who are engaged in the kind of activities which assist the enemy and which would be prohibited by the bill now before your committee, have made a serious mistake in describing their actions as an exercise in freedom."

OBITUARIES

Margaret Kempton Dies At 61

Margaret S. Kempton, Marin County resident for 28 years, died early today at a local hospital following a short illnes..

A native of Oakland, Mrs. Kempton, 61, moved to San Anselmo in 1938 with her husband, Laurence R. Kempton, secretary-treasurer of Hulse Imports, residing at 45 Cordone Drive.

Mrs. Kempton was employed as legal stenographer and chief clerk for the Marin County district attorney's office since 1947.

Surviving are her husband; a daughter, Francis B. Kempton of Garden Grove, Orange County; a sister, Francis B. Shearer of Washington; and four grandchildren.

Private family funeral will be held Monday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

MRS. BARRY

Funeral for Grace B. Barry of Huntington Park, Los Angeles County, mother of Mrs. Margaret Cunningham of Larkspur, will be tomorrow in Huntington Park.

Mrs. Barry, 78, died Tuesday in a Huntington Park hospital after a short illness. She was born in Kansas City, Kan.

She is survived by her husband, Carl Barry of Huntington Park, a retired school teacher; her daughter; and a son, Richard Barry of the Bay Area, and grandchildren.

WILLIAM GORDON

A memorial Holy Communion for William McPhearson Gordon of Hawaii, father of William Andre Gordon, Marinwood's director of recreation, will be tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Church of the Nativity, Marinwood.

Gordon, 86, died this week in a Honolulu hospital following a long illness. He was born in Balmoral, Scotland, and worked as head overseers of the Hono Kaa sugar plantation in Hawaii until he retired. During World War I he was cited for meritorious service in France with the Gordon Highlanders of the British Army.

He is survived by his wife, Clara Andre Gordon of Hawaii, a retired school teacher; his son; one daughter, Lois Anne Gordon of Hawaii, and four grandchildren.

The family asks that tributes be contributions to the memorial fund of the Church of the Nativity.

pulverized coal that can be used as fuel after serving as a filter agent.

Turning to other domestic affairs, Johnson said that before medicare was set up the greatest single threat to the economic security of older Americans was the high cost of health service.

While it is billed as nonpolitical, the area Johnson is covering today and tomorrow embraces the districts of many first term Democratic congressmen. And they, as well as other Democratic candidates, are hopeful that the President's presence and speeches will mean votes in the November elections.

Johnson's schedule calls for eight formal speeches beginning in Buffalo today and ending Sunday at Campobello Island in Canada when he and Pearson take part in laying the cornerstone of a new visitors' pavillion at the Roosevelt International Park.

Johnson will make a major speech tomorrow and receive an honorary doctorate of laws degree at the University of Rhode Island at Kingston.

Tomorrow night, Johnson plans to board the cruiser Northampton for an overnight trip to Campobello off the coast of New Brunswick.

Pearson has indicated that he and Johnson will discuss international questions, possibly including Viet Nam.

In New York State, Johnson will speak in the home districts of three freshmen House Democrats who upset Republicans in 1964.

It's Moving Day At Civic Center

Most county social workers had the day off today because it was moving day at the Civic Center.

Desks, phones, chairs, files and waste baskets were moved from the third to the fourth floor, taking space vacated by the county schools office. The clerical staff of the Department of the third floor.

The third floor space vacated today will be taken over by the burgeoning administrator, planning and data processing departments.

party, will also be in Chicago Sunday to lead a Nazi rally in Marquette Park on the city's southwest side, a party functionary said.

J. B. Stoner, attarney for the National States Rights party, announced in Augusta, Ga., that his party will also stage an open-air rally in Marquette Park Sunday. Stoner accused Rockwell of planning to "disrupt" the states rights party rally and said he would ask for police protection.

It was not unlikely that civil rights demonstrators would also march into the Marquette Park area if today's exploratory moves with real estate dealers prove unsuccessful.

King scheduled a strategy meeting for tonight to evaluate today's activities and make plans for future demonstrations. He said there would be no more marches until Sunday.

Airline Vote Results Awaited Across U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Striking airline machinists, who trampled down the Johnson administration's anti-inflation wage guidelines in their quest for more pay, vote today on the latest contract offer to end the 44-day walkout.

Sources close to the national leadership of the International Association of Machinists (IAM) were cautiously optimistic that the new proposal would be approved, but they conceded the vote would be close. They noted that the IAM's largest locals are still uncommitted.

Reports from some of the traditionally independent locals indicate the members appeared testy toward the new contract offer even though it meets nearly all the union's original contract demands.

Results of the ratification vote were to be announced tonight (at 8 p.m. EDT) at union headquarters in Washington.

The leaders of the Miami and San Francisco lodges were reported undecided on what to recommend, with a strong faction on the executive boards calling for rejection. If these factions prevail it could be a deciding factor in the nationwide vote since the two lodges are the biggest in the union.

Grade School Sign-Up Now On

San Rafael Elementary School District has started registration of new pupils at the district administration building, Third and E streets, according to Acting Supt. William C. Jordan.

All pupils, kindergarten through eighth grade, who are new to the district should register immediately as administrators need to organize classes before school starts, he said.

Pre-registration will continue at the central office until next Friday. Starting Aug. 29 pupils will register at their schools, Jordan said.

Mechanic Jumps From Oakland Bridge

BANDITS

from the motel safe and cash drawer, then left.

Corte Madera police and sheriff's inspectors said the motel robbers looked, sounded and operated very much the same as two of a trio of gunmen who robbed Franchini's Chateau north of San Rafael of $2,200 early Sunday.

No charge has been filed in that holdup.

Berg and Michael Richard Colvard, 21, San Francisco, both heavily armed, were arrested by Fairfax police July 3 after being seen in a car near the rear of a series of shops in the 1500 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

They were charged with attempted burglary of Drake Cleaners at 1587 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and concealing stolen property. Berg also is charged with possession of five automatic pistols while being a convicted felon.

Berg, free on $2,750 bail, failed to appear in court July 8. Judge Leonard A. Thomas issued a warrant for his arrest, forfeited the bail, and set new bail at $11,000.

Colvard pleaded guilty and was given a year in county jail and placed on a year's probation.

San Quentin Prison records show Poindexter was convicted of four counts of first degree robbery in Contra Costa County. He went to San Quentin and was paroled April 11 to the Sacramento parole region.

Four Marin Burglaries Reported

Four burglaries, three in Homestead Valley and the fourth in Temalpais Valley, were reported today by sheriff's officers.

Lois A. Crain, 306 Ferndale Avenue, told deputies his house was entered through an unlocked front door, and two pairs of boots and several phonograph records were stolen.

Von H. Griffin reported a piggy bank containing $75, and two pistols — a .45 caliber automatic and a .38 caliber revolver — were taken from his home forced entry was evident.

Elizabeth Wilken, 25 Hamilton Lane, said a front door of an unoccupied house at 44 Tamalpais Drive was forced but nothing appeared to be missing.

The Tamalpais Valley breakin was at Mac-Andys Used Auto Parts, 242 Shoreline Highway. An employee, Donaid James Concoran, told deputies entry was by forcing a skylight.

He said a small pool of blood beneath the skylight indicated the intruder must have cut or injured himself. Nothing was missing.

BRIDGE

Director Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato quoted a letter from the office of the state legislative counsel to Assemblyman William T. Bagley, Rep.-San Rafael, dated Aug. 1.

The letter said the directors had the legal authority to add a second deck, construct an underwater tube, or build a parallel bridge, provided it remained within the Golden Gate headlands.

Leonoudakis questioned the right of the board to raise the estimated $50 million for the deck without going to the people for a vote.

Director Alvin S. Derre of San Francisco, acting as president in the absence of L. E. Castner of Sonoma, told Leonoudakis methods of financing would be discussed at another meeting. They are under study by the district's joint bond and finance committee.

Four methods are under review: increasing tolls; a general obligation bond issue, requiring a two-thirds positive vote of the people; a revenue bond issue, calling for a simple majority vote, and borrowing from financial institutions.

Absent were directors John E. Nelson of Mendocino and Joseph J. Diviny of San Francisco.

San Anselmo Avenue Traffic Not Changed

Plans to widen Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Tunstead to Bolinas avenues were approved by the San Anselmo City Council Aug. 9 with a vote to retain the present two-way traffic pattern on San Anselmo Avenue.

An article appearing in yesterday's I-J, reporting discussion of the project on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," stated in error that the city planned to convert San Anselmo Avenue into a one-way street as engineers had advised the city.

Gas Station Robbed

BERKELEY (UPI) — Three bandits, armed with pistols and a shotgun, forced two customers and two attendants to the floor while they robbed the Regal gasoline station at 301 5San Pablo Ave. yesterday of $5,000 in cash and checks.

SAFEST CAR ON THE ROAD!

MG SEDAN

and here are 15 reasons why—

1. LIQUID SUSPENSION — Revolutionary system provides superior handling (proved at "Indy"). No pitch or roll (no service required).
2. FRONT WHEEL DRIVE — Proper use of power makes it practically impossible to skid on slippery surfaces.
3. RUGGED CONSTRUCTION — Extremely rugged monocoque. Welded steel, no bolts to work loose.
4. STEERING WHEEL — Will collapse forward and upward on impact.
5. RACK and PINION — Steering—light—precise—quick.
6. DISC BRAKES — No locking to cause skids—no fade, no failing.
7. ENGINE PLACED CROSSWISE — It would be impossible to force engine through fire wall.
8. HEAVY CAR — Probably heaviest car on the road for its size. Only 12 feet long and weighs close to a ton.
9. 59 HORSEPOWER — High power/weight ratio for instant response.
10. CHILD PROOF DOOR SAFETY LOCKS — Little fingers can't reach them.
11. CURVED WINDSHIELD — Absolutely distortion free.
12. SOFT VISORS
13. PADDED DASH
14. EASY REACH CONTROLS
15. SAFETY-FAST

For more than 30 years the initials M.G. have been associated with cars of performance and character; cars which have earned the reputation for "SAFETY FAST" and for advanced design.

It is nice to be protected in an accident, but it is even better to avoid the accident! All M.G. cars are designed to give the driver the best possible chance of doing so!!

why don't you test drive the SAFE car today! MG

Bigness Seen Making Gains

VACAVILLE—A similarity of "creeping federalism" in government and baseball alike was noted here last night by a man who knows how to make a pitch in both fields.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, running for re-election in the fourth (Solano - Napa - Marin) District told a meeting of the Vacaville Lions Club at the Nut Tree:

"Bigness for the sake of bigness is withering the grass roots of American government and America's greatest sport alike. In government, the constantly advancing arm of federal authority is destroying local government.

"In baseball, much as the advent of three major league ciubs in California cheers me, I am depressed by the way the times are conspiring to wipe out the smaller leagues. Even the sandlot is becoming a parking lot."

Golf is played by an estimated 11 million persons around the world says the National Geographic.

Voters Groups Plan October Candidate Night

November candidates con congress, state senate and assembly have been invited to a candidates' night Oct. 19 by the Southern Marin League of Women Voters and the Mill Valley Branch of the American Assn. of University Women.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. in Ruby Scott Auditorium at Tamalpais High School.

Congressional candidates are incumbent Don H. Clausen, Republican, District, and County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, Democrat.

Drunken Driving Draws $400 Fine

Terry Vance, 51, of San Francisco, was fined $400 on condition that she pay $300 in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Judge Peter Allen Smith placed her on a year's probation. She was arrested May 2 on Freitas Parkway by San Rafael police.

Alice Gardner, 50, of 200 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, was fined $276, with $110 suspended, for drunken driving. Judge Smith placed her on a year's probation. She was arrested Aug. 3 on Magnolia Avenue by Larkspur police.

HER NEWEST CAREER — Artist Loi Wing is discovering new worlds of painting satisfaction using synthetic polymer paints, despite the public's clinging to the notion that traditional oil colors are much more valuable.

Many-Faceted Woman Artist Now Pioneers In Acrylic Paintings

By LAURA DEVENDORF

In the past, the facts you wrote one day about artist Loi Wing, seemed ridiculously outdated the next.

To illustrate: At the age of nine she won a scholarship to the Dayton, Ohio Institute of Art (where she remembers another student, Jonathan Winters, as "that mean little boy.") Only five years later she was riding eight hours a day training and exhibiting her world's grand champion saddlebred mare, Miss Baltimore.

She operated her own riding school. Then, in college at the San Francisco Art Institute, she again concentrated on art and just a few years back she combined her interests in a thriving business, Pony Prints, with a national clientele of 5,000 horse fanciers, race horse breeders and retail outlets for which she designed birth announcements (for horses), greeting cards and stationery.

Today, Loi Wing has settled down to what she really wants to be and do, living a life of her own design in her art and animal filled Fairfax studio-home and working as a full - time painter.

She still applies the intensity and drive that led to past successes to her current work in painting. "I even take my paintings into the bedroom at night so I can think them out. Half of painting is thinking and I can't sleep nights working out the problems."

She brings this same intensity into defending the acrylic medium she uses, so much so that it has become her current soapbox. "We ought to form a protest group," she laments over the way buyers turn pale on learning that her glowing, color-washed figures aren't oils at all but acrylics.

Though is sounds unimportant, it matters a great deal if you're earning your living on art as does Miss Wing. Along with that pallor goes the automatic reluctance "to pay even half what they'd pay for an oil." And it matters to more artists than you'd think. According to Miss Wing, "The latest surveys show two out of three American painters are now using the acrylic medium."

So what is acrylic or Liquitex or polymer, as it is also called? It is a water - base compound that combined with pigments can be applied like watercolor or again, like oil. It can be used thin or impasto and textured or flat, as glue for collage or mixed with plaster and sculpted. It's a new, fascinating, almost limitless medium but in a word, it it plastic.

The only problem polymer has is that the public doesn't know what it is and they're scared to death of it.

"They think that only oils are permanent," explains Miss Wing. "Yet from all the study I've done, polymer is the most permanent. It's sunproof, waterproof and weatherproof. You can't shred or crack it and you can roll up a Liquitex up to three inches thick and no oil can do that.

"You can even walk on it. Also, there are no fugitive colors that fade as there are in oils and Liquitex dries in ten to twenty minutes whereas an oil isn't dry until a year after you've painted it. Then you have to varnish it and what professional painter today can wait for that?"

But the best reassurances are Miss Wing's unbending convictions about permanency. "I've become a real nut, almost neurotic about it. I have a 'thing' about lasting paintings. I've seen too many chipped, cracked, faded ones. I'm for the return to the school of craftsmanship and of knowing your materials. Painting classes today are concerned with 'freeing yourself,' not technique or quality. I sound like an old fogy but I don't believe in mud on mud. I'm a purist about chemistry and what they're doing in the schools today terrifies me."

It was this need for transparencies that led her into acrylics in the first place. Some years back, she became fascinated with the clear colors in an ink drawing she had done. A week later, the paper she had done it on was there but the drawing had disappeared. The look of ink was "it" but the colors were fugitive and so began a two year search for permanent transparencies, an experimental period of research, testing, failures and finally, the discovery of acrylics.

Once discovered, she mastered them for her figurative work, moving color from black and white as in her prize winning, "Architect" in the Marin Society July show, to her sensual color-bathed series of nude "love paintings."

But once mastered, the medium begged to be explored and Miss Wing is pushing acrylics to the limits of those limitless possibilities. She has done thick plaques and triptychs, and now is moving into heavily three-dimensional surfaces in a purely abstract vein.

She began these "as relief from the restrictions of pure draftsmanship" and the results are intriguing, a conglomeration four inches thick of last year's Christmas tree, tissue boxes, thread and light weight aggregate, encased in polymer and glazed in layers of color.

But no matter how far she pushes the medium she hopes everything she makes "has a romance as to mood about it so people can go into them rather than just know it matches their draperies." And she wants nothing to do with the sick-shock school. "If you have an emotional disturbance that's ugly, violent, negative and without meaning for mankind and get it on canvas, some poor dope will take this sickness home.

"It's a negative force and I don't want to give someone that disease. I'd rather make people happy." And she adds, "It takes a lot of work to become a craftsman while it's easy to become a negative performer. It's a travesty on the public who's heard so much of the creative person and wants to meet him and then gets slop, antagonism and esoterics. I'm sorry for the public who just wants to buy a painting and I'm for the humble approach rather than 'look at me, I'm an artist.' "

Loi Wing doesn't have to call negative attention to herself to prove that point. Combining talent and hard work she has proven herself in the grand manner before. Now, she's applying the same means to prove herself in her latest, permanent role as a serious, professional painter.

MARIN FILM FARE

Classic 'Stagecoach' In Modern Version

By LESLIE DARD

NOVATO THEATER

In 1939, director John Ford produced a clasic Western: "Stagecoach." A new version of that story is now on screen.

Nine assorted persons board the stage at Dryfork, heading for Cheyenne and hoping to get safely through country where a cavalry company has already been slaughtered.

Atop the stage is driver Slim Pickens, and alongside him bearing a Winchester is stony-eyed U.S. Marshal Van Heflin.

In the passenger compartment are Stefanie Powers, an Army wife expecting any moment, and Ann-Margaret, a prostitute Dryfork has just decided it doesn't want.

Co-featured is a survival drama with a twist: "The Flight of the Phoenix."

TAMALPIAS THEATER

"Batman" is here! Yes, the TV idol has hit the big screen with all spoofs intact.

And with him are not only Robin, his faithful Dynamic Duo partner, but a zany assortment of villains including The Riddler, the Joker, the Penguin and the Catwoman.

It seems that this nefarious quartet is plotting to take over the world——or something like that—and it's up to Batman and Robin to foil their dastardly scheme.

Adam West and Burt Ward play the daring pair of crime-fighters. Also contributing are Frank Gorshin, Cesar Romero, Burgess Meredith, Lee Meriwether, Alan Napier, Madge Blake, Stafford Repp and Neil Hamilton.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Britain's answer to the Dynamic Duo is none other than "Modesty Blaise," now playing.

A glittering array of fantastic sets in startling color set the pace for the film's special brand of spoofery. Monica Vitti takes the title role of a glamorous and invincible lady spy who constantly courts sudden death then flits away in the nick of time.

Also featured are Dirk Bogarde as the villian Gabriel and Terence Stamp as Modesty's bed-hopping assistant, Willie Garvin.

MOTOR MOVIES

Especially for the younger set is Ivan Tors' production "Namu the Killer Whale," now showing.

Robert Lansing stars as fisherman from Seattle who kills a whale that has been menacing fish in the area. He then has the darndest time explaining the whole thing to its mate—whose name is Namu.

Meanwhile, the irate townspeople, feeling that their livelihood is threatened by the whale's presence in their waters, embark on a campaign to dispose of Namu. Lansing, though, has contained the whale with a net and will not permit the killing, risking his life to prove that Namu is friendly.

Co-featured is one of Elvis Presley's latest "Frankie and Johnny."

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

NORTHGATE THEATER

One of the year's most unusual and inspiring offerings is "Born Free," held over, the story of a lioness.

It is based on a world-wide best seller by Joy Adamson, wife of a Kenya game warden, and it tells of how they adopted an orphaned lioness—Elsa by name.

101 DRIVE-IN

The familiar beach gang of Annette Funicello, Frankie Avalon, Harvey Lembeck, and Fabian have switched locations for "Fireball 500," now playing.

This time the story involves stock car racing in the deep south and there's considerably more violence than is customary in these shows.

FAIRFAX THEATER

If your taste this weekend is for stern stuff from which dramatic masterpieces are created, then "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," held over, should be at the top of your list.

RAFAEL THEATER

LARK THEATER

Also held over are Jarl Kulle and Christina Schollin in "Dear John," a beautiful and tender Swedish love story.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Bowel Trouble Can Be Traced To Disturbances, High Tension

VAN DELLEN

Emotional disturbances, certain drugs, roughage, and infections can make the intestines irritable. It is well known for example, that castor oil irritates the colon to such an extent that diarrhea ensues. Fear will do the same. So will worry, anger, hostility, tension, and frustration, especially when associated with too little sleep and too much work. It is the penalty paid for poor eating habits, living in a world of tension, or both.

SPASM LEADS to abdominal distress, varying from mild unpleasant sensations (butterflies) to acute cramping that resembles the old-fashioned green apple colic. The nervous system and the resulting irritability produces contractions that hurt in much the same way as does a cramp in the leg or big toe.

For most of us the irritable bowel is a signal that changes in attitude and living condtions are needed. Stock must also be taken of the diet and the abuse of laxatives, tea, coffee, alcohol, and foods such as bran, raw fruit, and other forms of roughage which cause the bowel to rebel. Business and home affairs will require the same investigation, as well as the status of vacations, sleep, and exercise. There are foods and medicines that bring conplete relief but these other factors must be resolved to obtain permanent results.

A MIXTURE of belladonna and a sedative relieves the spasm and quiets the victim. Improved antispasmodics often do a better job but side effects such as dry mouth, blurred vision, and urinary obstruction may occur. A bland diet with two cooked fruits and two cooked vegetabies daily helps to avoid constipation. Exercise, adequate sleep, rest, and relaxation are important adjuncts.

THE MOST difficult aspect in treating irritable colon is to convince the victim that spasm is causing the distress. It is not "all in the head" but a normal response to increased nervous tension. This is understandable because the condition mimics peptic ulcer, gallbladder disorders, cancer, appendicitis, ovarian disturbances, and even kidney infections.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

UNTRUE

Mrs. L. A. writes: I have been told that when children are given antibiotics such as penicillin or aureomycin, they develop leukemia. How true is this?

REPLY

This story is not accurate. Blood disturbances may follow the use of antibiotics but leukemia is not one of these disorders.

VEGETABLE OIL

M. V. A. writes: Does the vegetable oil in margarine take the place of eating vegetables?

REPLY

No, vegetable oils are rich mainly in polyunsaturated fatty acids. On the other hand, vegetables supply roughage and vitamins A, B, C, and D.

INNER EAR VERTIGO

H. H. W. writes: What is acute labyrinthitis?

REPLY

Inflammation, or a toxic condition of the labyrinth of the ear, a structure that has to do with equilibrium. Dizziness, nausea, and head noises usually accompany this disturbance.

CORONARY THROMBOSIS

G. C. writes: Can a young person have a coronary attack?

REPLY

Yes, but this heart disturbance is more common in the 50-to-70-year-old group. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on coornary disease.

Today's Health Hint—

Prolonged exposure to the sun ages skin.

Tam Savings Wants Branch

Tamalpais Savings and Loan Assn., Corte Madera, has applied to the state savings and loan commissioner for permission to establish a branch office in El Cerrito, in the vicinity of El Cerrito Plaza Shopping Center at Fairmount and San Pablo Avenues.

A hearing on the application has been set for Aug. 29.

If approved, this would be Tamalpais Savings' second branch outside of Marin County. An office was opened at the Town and Country Shopping Center in Palo Alto last December.

MARIN INHOSPITABLE?

Rentals Seem Scarce For Blind Man, Dog

Landlords who won't allow dogs—even Guide Dogs — have created a snag for a blind Colorado man who fulfilled his dream of coming to work in Marin County.

Kenneth Morton of Fort Collins completed the four-week course at San Rafael's Guide Dogs for the Blind and received his second dog, a German shepherd named Larry.

When he flew back to Colorado, it was with the understanding that he would sell his house trailer and return to Marin soon with his wife and their 3-year-old son, Clark Andrew.

It all came about because Morton, an X-ray technician, had not been able to find full-time work in his home town. Because of this, and a long-time dream to live in California, he made the most of his stay at the Guide Dogs School. He asked around for job opportunities and won an interview with Dr. Gus A. Raney of the Marin General Hospital radiology department.

Raney granted Morton a one-week trial period, provided he could prove the dog would create no problem. The school arranged his training schedule to fit in with the work.

The experiment was a success, and Morton was asked to join the hospital's X-ray staff full-time as soon as he could move his family here.

It was only after the entire Morton family arrived in Marin that they ran into an unpleasant fact: No landlord would rent to a couple with a child and a Guide Dog.

The young Coloradans and Guide Dog officials were startled, since the dogs are trained to behave, and state laws prohibit barring them from restaurants and public places. There is no legislation, however, which provides for their being admitted to housing from which ordinary pets are barred.

Unable to rent a home, the Mortons moved in temporarily with friends in Petaluma, an arrangement which forces Morton to make a 90-minute bus trip daily, changing buses three times.

Anyone willing to rent a home to the family has been asked to call the school between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. any weekday.

State Orders Crackdown On Scooters

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford Crittenden today banned sale of 24 different models of motorcycles until their lighting equipment meets California standards.

Crittenden said the ban was imposed, effectively immediately, "because of the apparent unwillingness of these manufacturers to bring their products up to present California standards."

He said highway patrolmen will visit dealers throughout California and indicate models to be withheld from sale. Failure to comply will result in prosecution, he added.

Spectacular Crash, But Driver Unhurt

John Davis, 34, of 815 C Street, San Rafael, escaped with nothing worse than a cut finger today when his car rolled 285 feet, landing upside down on Highway 101 near the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge overpass.

The highway patrol said the accident appeared to have occurred when Davis, northbound, hit the divider barrier at 2:20 a.m. and rolled over, crossing three lanes in its course. Davis was treated at Marin General Hospital.

NO MONEY DOWN AT WARDS—JUST SAY "CHARGE IT"

INJURED ALICE—Alice Parsons, the sea lion at Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum, found herself after museum workers discovered temporarily behind bars yesterday several small wounds which they thought were from a pellet gun. She was loaded into cage and onto truck by veterinarian William F. Braunschweig (left) and museum curator Lloyd B. Smalley Jr. The wounds, however, were found to be merely superficial, from scraping. (Independent-Journal photo)

SEA LION NOT SHOT

Alice Parsons Just Scratched An Itch

Alice Parsons is going to be all right.

This was the good news for Marin County children and other admirers of Alice, the Louise A. Boyd Museum's big sea lion who was found injured in her pool yesterday morning.

Museum director Clara Evans reported that Alice was not shot, as was first believed when museum workers spotted blood on the surface of the pool yesterday. After she was treated by a veterinarian, Mrs. Evans said, the sea lion's keepers realized she had, while swimming upside down, scraped her back on a new drain in the bottom of the pool.

The drain had just been installed to replace one which had become clogged with the little plastic sacks which the museum fills with fish for children to feed Alice. Workers plan now to eliminate the rough edges which apparently hurt the sea lion.

After treatment at the San Rafael Animal Hospital, Alice Parsons was allowed to go home and resume swimming.

Homeowners Vote Down Road Chains

The Sleepy Hollow Homeowners Assn. last night ruled out the possibility of placing chains across fire roads in Sleepy Hollow to prohibit auto access.

Members pointed out that the roads are a means of escape from fire for Sleepy Hollow residents and chaining the roads would be disastrous in a fire.

In an alternate plan, the association moved to instruct Harold D. Lang, chairman of the homeowners' road committee, who was not present at the meeting, to investigate posting the roads with signs prohibiting auto access and dumping.

Clarence L. Hunt, vice president, presided in the absence of president Bryant R. Miley.

Boys Caught Shoplifting In San Rafael

Three 10-year-old Santa Venetia boys were caught shoplifting yesterday in San Rafael.

One boy was stopped by Ray Christian, manager of Grand Auto Store, as the boy was leaving the store with a 49-cent bicycle lock in his pocket.

Two more boys were stopped by John Pereira, manager of United Market on Third Street, on the sidewalk outside the store. They had 19 packs of cigarettes stuck in their sweater sleeves. Police found another $2 worth of loot in a sack which the boys said they had taken from Thrifty Drug.

All three were released to their parents.

Meeting Cancelled

The monthly meeting of Sausalito Citizens Council was cancelled last night for lack of a quorum. Directors rescheduled their meeting to Sept. 1.

Marinwood Cracks Down On Weeds

Directors of the Marinwood Community Services District, cracking down on fire hazards, ordered the abatement of weeds on two lots at Las Gallinas Avenue and Blackstone Drive after a public hearing last night.

Cost of abatement will be a lien on the property. The directors set public hearing for Sept. 15 on abatement of weeds on three other lots, one west of the 2100 block of Las Gallinas Avenue, another at the end of Limestone Grade, and a third at the end of Kernberry Drive, District Secretary Genevieve Bolding reported.

Directors ordered letters of thanks for all who helped stage the successful junior olympics Saturday.

The board also authorized rental of the center for two Saturdays each month for a recreation program for the handicapped sponsored by the county and the Crippled Childrens Society.

The board accepted the resignation of Stewart Price from the Marinwood Fire Commission. Price is moving out of the district.

Cycle, Truck Collision Causes Broken Leg

Warren P. Harris, 16, of 2 Garden Avenue, San Rafael, suffered a broken right leg at 6:15 p.m. yesterday when his motorcycle collided at the intersection of Adrian and Palmera ways, Santa Venetia, with a truck driven by James F. Moore, 27, of 1136 Elm Drive, Novato.

Lagoon Plan Hearing Set

The first of four public hearings on a new master plan for Bolinas Lagoon will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. by Bolinas Harbor Commission in Stinson Beach Community Center.

Details of the plan, by architect Norman Gilroy of Mill Valley, will not be unveiled until the third hearing, Sept. 17, at 3 p.m. at the community center. The second hearing will be Aug. 25 at 8 p.m. at the Center.

Final review of the plan by the commission is scheduled for Sept. 22 at 8 p.m. at the Center.

The new plan reportedly will depart from the views of conservationists on use of the lagoon, and is said to include berths for about 2,500 boats and a road on a causeway across the center of the lagoon.

The world's deepest lake is Siberia's Lake Baykal, which reaches a depth of 5,315 feet.

Wedemeyer's Successor Announced

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Newton R. Holcomb, Santa Clara County's assistant executive officer, was named state social welfare director yesterday, replacing John F. Wedemeyer, who resigned in a dispute with Gov. Brown.

The Democratic governor, who disagreed with some of Wedemeyer's welfare policies, said he wanted Holcomb to "take a good hard look at programs aimed at rehabilitation, training and employment of welfare recipients and to recommend additional steps to improve them."

Holcomb, 54, was one of five candidates recommended for the job by the County Supervisors Assn. of California. The post pays $24,500 a year.

That same supervisors organization had favored a plan it said would restore more local control to welfare administration. Wedemeyer had been critical of what he called "California's misguided system of local administration."

Burglars Steal Saw, Cigarettes

Theft of a $150 chain saw in burglary of an equipment shed at San Geronimo National Golf Course was reported yesterday by sheriff's officers.

Albert G. Teters, maintenance superintendent, told deputies entry was by forcing a sliding door.

Louis A. Denton, Meadow Way, San Geronimo, reported a rear window screen of his home was torn off and burglars entered to take five packages of cigarettes.

DINING OUT AND INNS

Former Oil Executive To Buy Alioto's Sausalito Restaurant

Biggest restaurant news feature this week comes from Sausalito, where former Texas oil company executive C. Harold Hobbs has negotiated to purchase Peter Alioto's Arbordale and add it to his operation of the Sausalito Hotel in the same building.

Hobbs and his associates, as Sausalito Hotel Corp., purchased the old building at Bridgeway and El Portal a little over a year ago. F. Bruce Bernhard had given the hostelry a Victorian theme and made it into a "honeymoon hotel." The new owners continued and elaborated upon the Victorian treatment and the hotel has become quite an attracttion.

Their idea now is to make hotel and restaurant one integral unit called Sausalito Inn. They are working with restaurant consultant Rex Mawdsley on the details of the proposed new operation which eventually will involve a number of changes in the entrance, kitchen and other areas.

Meanwhile it is likely to be the middle of next month before transfer of the liquor license is approved and the deal can be closed. Until that time the restaurant will continue in business as heretofore. Even when the transfer is effected there probably will be no interruption in service. Remodeling changes will no doubt be postponed until after the first of the year or accomplished gradually.

The Sausalito Hotel Building was constructed over 50 years ago on part of the original Henry Meyer land adjacent to the park and waterfront. In 1959 it was reconstructed to house the Sausalito Post Office on the main floor. Subsequent remodeling for Alioto's and retail stores on the ground floor came later.

PEACOCK GAP COUNTRY CLUB is a type of place you should visit for dinner when you have time to dawdle, chat and eat slowly to get the most out of it. Health experts prescribe this tempo lente for frazzled nerves. Epicures concur for another reason, holding that dining in haste is dining heresy.

Whatever the motivation, it does have its good points. For one thing, it gives you a chance to savor the flavor of the food before you swallow it. While it's possible you may consume more at the leisurely pace—I don't think you will. Not if you have about the normal capacity for food. Satiety, you know, can be achieved without overindulgence.

Peacock Gap is only open for dinners Saturdays and Sundays, which narrows your choice of evenings. But I find that many people still do not realize that this service and lunch service is extended to the general public as well as to the membership. Same as the golf course. No need to produce credentials. Also I gather that it is not generally understood the operation of clubhouse, dining room and golf course reverted to Chinn Ho and his associates when the Draper Companies gave up most of their holdings in the area.

Gene Wallace manages all these operations as well as adjoining real estate under the same ownership. It is time consuming and Gene has recently acquired Louis Mason as catering manager in the dining room. Lou came to Peacock Gap from the Peninsula and was a close friend of the late John Kornher, his predecessor. Like John, he is Viennese, with the accent, old world courtesy and food knowledge to go with it. He is particularly good on banquet preparations and has recently booked some nice parties.

Returned as Peacock Gap's chef, as I mentioned previously, is Lars Eric Benson. And it is true that he's willing to stray from the regular menu in order to please — particularly if you give him a reasonable chance by phoning your ideas in advance.

No matter what your entree is, I'd suggest you try Eric's Swedish dilled salmon for an appetizer—a delightful dish with a tantalizing sauce of dill and horseradish, though the salmon has already been "dilled" for about 48 hours beforehand.

Suggested, too are his pork tenderloin stuffed with prunes—another Swedish trick—and his butterfly steaks Diane.

AT THIS WRITING, Jim McKee and Don Caseldine were hoping to bring McKee's Hofbrau at 721 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael back into operation by next Wednesday, Aug. 24.

Menu will be much the same as it was when the place was originally opened, and Don says he'll have 40 different specials to be rotated daily. Hours will be from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays. McKee's will be closed on Sundays.

PANDORA in San Anselmo has been closing both Sundays and Mondays. Plan is now to keep the cocktail lounge open Sundays from 1 p.m. and serve hot hors d'oeuvres—though the dining room will not be operated. Both closed on Mondays.

NEXT MONDAY is first anniversary day for Cherish Inn in Strawberry Town and Country Village. All dinner guests that evening will be provided with champagne with their meals to help celebrate.

IT COSTS $65 for a whole barbecued suckling pig at Tiburon Tommie's Mai Tai, but for a group of 25 or more you can "go native" at a Tahitian feast, complete with roasted pig, barbecued meats, rum punch, tropical fruits and flowers at $8.50 per person—all in a colorful Maori setting.

Chef Johnny Won will prepare just about any rare and exotic dish of the South Seas you can name—give him sufficient notice. A week's notice is also required on that barbecued suckling pig.

CONGRATULATIONS to Valimir Nevl of Drake's Arms in Inverness, who has just acquired his American citizenship. This makes him a man of many countries — Czechoslovakia, France, Australia, that I can think of—and perhaps he's qualified to speak for even more.

In fact his menu at Drake's Arms frequently features the dishes of seven countries—mostly his Moravian specials.

By next year Valdimir and wife Alena hope to have outside garden service at Drake's Arms.

OVER AT STINSON BEACH, congratulations are also in order for Al Nugent, manager of Farallon East—who has recently taken unto himself a wife.

Farallon East now has its dining room open and will keep it so until the first of the year. Dinners are served from 5 to 10 p.m. and on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays the restaurant is open clear through the day for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Flamenco music for entertainment on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

In the adjoining bar, there's rock and roll music Friday and Saturday nights, and on Sundays from 4 to 8 p.m. Dick Oxtot's group called Conspiracy plays Dixieland music.

MARINITES on an evening's prowl in San Francisco might look into the culinary attractions at the Marina Chuck Wagon at 2036 Lombard Street, near Fillmore.

Roast prime rib of beef is the most popular dinner item, and if you're fussy about how it's cooked, you can order the exact cut you want—from well done to blood rare.

Hearty steak eaters can order 18-ounce broiled Porterhouse dinner for $5.50. On Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays there's a $3.75 complete dinner (tax included)—filet Mignon, pan fried chicken or nightly chef's special (such as barbecued spare ribs.)

Open seven nights a week from 4 to 11 p.m.

IN DOWNTOWN SAN RAFAEL, Mr. K at 857 Fourth Street has gone into serving dinners from 4:30 p.m. until the traffic runs down. Highest priced entree here is $1.95. Homemade soups, roast beef and breaded veal cutlets are featured. This is third anniversary time for Mr. K and for the balance of the month an anniversary special is French fries and hamburger for 69 cents. Look in here, too, for hot pastrami and corned beef sandwiches, omelettes—and lox and bagels.

JEAN SHALLENBERGER at the King Cotton, San Rafael has four box seats for the Sept. 18 fight between the Giants and Pittsburg — which I imagine is otherwise sold out, even at this date. You can go in King Cotton and sign up for the drawing which will give some lucky fans a chance to watch the game.

NEW FEATURE at Vi's Club Drake in Fairfax: Movies are taken on Monday and Tuesday nights and shown on Wednesday nights.

There's live music for dancing Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Marin Dining And Wining

He Was Glutton For Punishment

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Byron Watson went fishing and was sunburned and frostbitten in little more than 24 hours.

When he started, the sun boiled up into the 80s and at the end of the day Watson was squirming with a burned back. That night, he returned to the lake and fished all night.

Iron Magazine Down To Tacks

NEW YORK (AP)—A current issue of "Steelways," magazine of the American Iron and Steel Institute, has an article about tacks. It includes such tack facts as:

The shoe industry uses about 45 per cent of all the tacks manufactured.

Tacks are sterilized to protect the health of those who put them in their mouths before using them.

There are about 3.2 million tacks to the ton.

Must Be Hard To Teach Aunts

GLASGOW, Ky. (AP) — Not many teachers faced the problem confronting Samuel S. Smith when he began teaching in a one-room schoolhouse at Little Poplar Grove.

Among Smith's 40 students were three of his aunts, two uncles and a sister.

"None of my relatives seemed to know what to call me," he said. "So usually they didn't call me—they just came after me."

Hello Paisanos:

Boy how a the time she flies away, one a more week gone. Yesterday I was a talk to my good friend "Jim Gallagher" he's a from next door, Gallagher & Sturiale," pretty good a combination huh? I was a tell Jim about a time I go visit my cousin in a San Diego. He a bring a me to a ship a yard where they got a lotsa different boats. I see one that's a very funny, I say to my cousin "Hey Giavanni this a U-boat". He's a say to me "Na, that's belong a to Germany!"

Nowa folks, I wanna talk about a my family style dinners. She's a beautiful. You getta the works. Nice a relish tray and a plenty good a garlic bread, minestrone soup. Oh! I forget a the main course. You gotta choice.

Embezzlement Linked To Dow Wilson Death

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— An ex-convict was offered $5,000 to kill San Francisco Painter's Union official Dow Wilson because he uncovered a $100,000 embezzlement, according to the prosecution in Wilson's murder trial.

Prosecutor Walter H. Giubbini yesterday quoted Norman Call, one of the three men charged with the slaying, as saying "We want the S.O.B. dumped."

Giubbini made the charge in a lenghty opening statement which he completed today, before calling witnesses.

The prosecutor told the jury of seven women and five men that the ex - convict, Wallace ("Wally") Charleston, later refused the offer to murder Wilson and cooperated with police.

Charged with conspiracy and murder in the Wilson case are Call, 46, a Sacramento painting contractor; Carl M. Black, 47, an Oakland accountant; and Max Ward, 39, Carmichael painting contractor.

Giubbini asserted that the three and several confederates planned the murder because they had "taken some $100,000 unlawfully from the Painters Union." Black was the accountant for the Sacramento Local's welfare fund and Call and Ward were employer trustees.

The prosecutor told the jury in Judge Norman Elkington's court that the fund ran into financial difficulties because of the embezzlement, and Wilson was asked by the Sacramento membership to investigate the trouble.

Giubbini also made it clear he was going to attempt to link the Wilson slaying with the murder of Lloyd Green, a Hayward official of the union, a few days later.

He quoted Charleston as claiming that Ward commented after the Wilson slaying that "there's another in the making right now."

"It's a cheap one, though, only $2,000," Ward was quoted by Charleston.

Wife Complains Of Being Beaten, Gets Arrested

A San Rafael woman called police early today to report that her husband was beating her—and got arrested herself for beating her husband.

Shirley Garland, about 40, of 123 Canal Street, Apt. 201, called police at 1:10 a.m. When Officer Gary Hassteld arrived, she told him her husband, Daniel R. Garland, was trying to beat her with a tire iron.

Garland said he had used the tire iron to get into the apartment after his wife locked him out.

Garland started to leave and was getting into his car when, according to Hassfeld, Mrs. Garland kicked her husband in the groin, leaving him doubled up on the ground for more than five minutes.

The officer arrested Mrs. Garland and booked her on a charge of battery. She was released on $276 bail.

Descanso Park Plans Tentatively Approved

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District last night gave tentative approval to a plan for development of the Descanso Way Park site.

The plan, prepared by a committee headed by board member David Banfield, calls for a tennis court, tot lot, and picnic area.

Board Secretary Marguerite Clarke said the plan will be reviewed by County Park and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske prior to the board's next meeting on Sept. 8. Final approval is expected then, and bids will be asked soon afterwards.

Cost is estimated at $20,000, Mrs. Clarke said, emphasizing that it was a very tentative estimate.

Board members named Walter Rudolph, 34, of 106 La Pasada to the board to replace Alice Durenberger, who resigned several months ago. Rudolph is a draftsman with Field Engineering Services in San Rafael. He had done much of the work on the park plan.

Board members agreed to erect a bulletin board for notices on district activities on the Rosal Way Park site.

Mrs. Clarke reported an audience of only six at last night's session. The citizens were pleased with the Descano Park plan, but asked that something be done to correct poor drainage on both sides of the park. The board decided to call the drainage problem to the attention of the county public works department.

Judge Unhappy With Slow Pace Of Park Cross Trial

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) —The trial of a citizens' suit seeking removal of a 51-foot cross that looks down on Eugene from a publicly owned butte went into its fifth day today.

Judge William Fort, hearing the case without jury, repeatedly expressed his dissatisfaction yesterday with the pace of the trial.

At one point he asked defense witness John Alltucker, whose sand gravel company helped build the cross, just who owned the edifice?

"It belongs to the people of Eugene," Alltucker said.

"Why?" asked Judge Fort.

Because, said Alltucker, the city granted an after-the-fact building permit for it. He admitted that no deed had ever changed hands, but said, "it was given to the city just like any Christmas present."

Alltucker testified he knew the butte was a city park and that he "had no authority from anyone" to place the cross there.

The cross, erected in 1964 by Alltucker and a group of businessmen, is encased in eight tons of concrete. It is illuminated during Easter and Christmas.

In previous testimony, a parade of witnesses maintained the presence of the cross was frustrating, offensive and restricting.

The suit was brought more than a year ago by a group of 10 citizens, headed by Unitarian minister Carl Nelson, seeking to have the cross removed.

Murphy On Mend After Surgery

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., was reported in excellent condition at his home here today following surgery for removal of tissue from his vocal cords.

Murphy underwent surgery yesterday at Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital.

Aides said he planned to return to Washington Monday.

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—An exploding mine killed at least five South Korean soldiers today and injured 10 others aboard a truck in the demilitarized zone of the front, about 60 miles northeast of Seoul, an army spokesman said.

Mexico has 2,500 theaters.

Murder Suspect Taken In Chains To Martinez

MARTINEZ (UPI) — Dennis rapist-murderer of Susan Box, 15, was in jail here today awaiting arraignment on a 12-count grand jury indictment.

He was brought here yesterday in chains from jail in San Mateo County, where he was accused of raping an 18-year-old girl near San Francisco.

In the indictment returned here Wednesday, Stanworth also charged with the attempted murder and rape of Caree Collison, 15, Susan's friend, who remains in critical condition at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Yesterday, Stanworth's wife, Pamela, 24, filed for divorce on grounds of extreme cruelty. She is the mother of four children, two by a previous marriage. She said she and her husband separated shortly before his Aug. 3 arrest.

Susan, a native of Dover, England, and Caree, were found in underbrush Aug. 3 near Pinole. Both had been shot.

Today is Friday, Aug. 19, the 231st day of 1966 with 134 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter; the morning stars are Mars, Venus, Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn. There are no evening stars.

Orville Wright, American inventor and aviator, was born on this day in 1821.

On this day in history:

In 1915, two Americans were killed when a German submarine torpedoed the British liner "Arabic" in the Atlantic.

In 1934, Germany voted that Adolf Hitler would be the official successor to President von Hindenburg.

In 1955, the worst flood in northeastern United States history killed 200 people and destroyed or damaged 20,000 homes.

In 1960, U2 pilot Francis Powers was convicted of espionage by the Soviet Union.

A thought for the day — French philosopher Voltaire said: "Let us work without disputing: It is the only way to render life tolerable."

Metz, France, gave the late U. S. President a supreme honor by changing its Rue Jeanne d'Arc to Rue J. F. Kennedy.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

When You Are Dummy, Try To Point Out Opening Lead Suit

When you put down your hand as the dummy be sure to save the suit of the opening lead for the end.

This maneuver, which compels your partner to see the entire hand before he plays from the dummy, won't do much good if your partner is a determined speed demon.

When this hand was played, South put up dummy's ace of hearts at the first trick, remarking "A trick is a trick."

Nobody challenged this brilliant statement, and South could devote himself to picking a discard.

Nothing was particularly useful, but South finally threw a low diamond.

South drew trumps and led the king of clubs. West refused the first club, took the second and got out safely with the queen of hearts.

South had to ruff and eventually lost a diamond trick.

Down one. This trick was indeed a trick, because the difference between making 11 and 12 tricks was 1,530 points.

EARLY GOOF

South lost his slam on the first play from the dummy.

He should play a low heart from dummy and ruff in his own hand.

South draws three rounds of trumps, discarding a low heart from dummy, leads the king of clubs and then a low club to West's ace.

West has no safe exit.

If he leads a heart or a club (assuming he had a club to lead), dummy gains the lead at once.

If West leads a diamond, dummy's ten or nine is sure to win a trick no matter which opponent has the king.

In sort, South is sure to get to the dummy. He can surely discard all of his low diamonds on the ace of hearts and three good clubs.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades (forcing to game).

You have four Quick Tricks and about 10 or 11 playing tricks. You want to reach game even if your partner has a worthless hand, and will contract for a slam if partner gives you any encouragement.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

Penney's Passes Billion Dollar Mark

J. C. PENNEY CO. sales volume for the opening six months (Jan. 31 through July 30) of its 1966 fiscal year passed the billion-dollar mark for the first time in the company's 64-year history. This was an 11.3 per cent increase over volume recorded for the first half of last year. Last month was Penney's 40th straight month reporting sales gains.

ZALE CORP., parent company of Granat Bros., proposes to acquire the business and assets of Levine's, Inc., seven-state department store chain operating from Louisiana to Colorado. The transaction has been approved in principle by directors of both companies. Zale has 466 jewelry stores and leased jewelry departments in 44 states and 44 drug stores in Texas.

BEMIS CO., INC., packaging firm headquartered in Minneapolis, has been approved for listing on the New York Exchange and will list over two million shares of common stock—trading to begin Sept. 13. Shares are now traded over the counter. In 1965, Bemis reported sales of $202 million. For the first six months of 1966 the company showed a 23 per cent increase in sales and 49 per cent increase in net income.

KORET OF CALIFORNIA, INC., reported net sales of apparel at $11.8 million for the first six months of 1966, compared with $9 million for the 1965 period. Earnings per share rose from 57 cents to $1.12.

BENDIX CORP. stockholders approved a two-for-one split of common stock and voted to increase the number of shares of authorized common from 7.5 million to 20 million. Directors have indicated establishing the annual dividend at $1.40 (equivalent of $2.80 on present stock), compared to $2.40 previously paid.

LUCKY STORES, INC., earnings for the second fiscal quarter ended July 31 were 5 per cent above earnings for the corresponding quarter last year. Consolidated earnings at $1,694,000 were equivalent to 68 cents per share. Consolidated sales for the quarter at $107 million increased 8 per cent.

AMPEX CORP. sales for the three months ended July 30 totaled $46 million, up 31 per cent from a year ago. Net earnings at 20 cents per share were up 34 per cent.

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC CO. announced plans to import an additional 300 million cubic feet of natural gas daily from Canada and from the Pacific Southwest. Deliveries from Texas and New Mexico will begin next year. Canadian deliveries will begin in 1968.

CONSOLIDATED FREIGHTWAYS, INC., reported earnings in July equal to 17 cents a share on sales of $25 million. Both figures were ahead of last July, when earnings equaled 15 cents a share and sales were $21 million. Year to date earnings are $1.19 a share compared to 86 cents for the same period of 1965.

APPLIED TECHNOLOGY, INC., Palo Alto, recorded a 93 per cent increase in net sales and 95 per cent increase in net income for the fiscal year ended June 30. Sales were over $10 million; net income was $785,638.

APPLIED RADIATION CORP., Walnut Creek, manufacturer of radiation devices for medical and industrial applications, has reported a first-half operating profit of $50,000 on $1.1 million sales, first operating profit since 1960. The company has an order backlog of $1.75 million, and is planning to step up efforts in new applications of food processing, medical packaging and plastics treating.

Airlines Announce Safety Measures

SAN FRANCISCO — Special phase-in measures to double check the safety of aircraft and competence of flight crews returning to scheduled service at the end of the current strike have been announced jointly by the FAA and the five struck airlines—Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World, and United.

The additional precautionary meaures, announced in anticipation of a strike settlement, were taken as an extra precaution in the interest of safety after the lengthy shut-down.

They are over and above the FAA regulations and airline practices which assure the airworthiness of airplanes and the proficiency of flight crews during normal airline operations.

Airline Voting Jars Sliding Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed lower today for the fifth straight session.

Late news that rejection of the newest proposed settlement of the airline strike was recommended by the executive board of the largest local of the striking machinists brought renewed selling to airlines.

The airlines were higher at the start in expectation of a strike settlement. With the issue remaining in doubt through the market session many airline stocks took losses.

Eastern, United and National Airlines were sold in a flurry near the end.

Glamor stocks were pounced once again. Among the sufferers were Xerox, Itek and Polaroid.

Some issues rallied in late dealings but the market as a whole remained lower amid continued concern over tight money and high interest rates.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.1 million shares compared with 7 million Thursday.

Here was the picture near the close:

The loss on average was not even half of yesterday's and selected stocks bucked the trend. American Airlines and Consolidation Coal rose more than 2, Northwest Airlines about 1½, Texaco a point or better.

The higher-priced glamor stocks were down sharply. Xerox erased an early gain and fell about 4. Polaroid also was down 4, Itek 8.

Losses of about 2 were taken by Mobil Oil, Corning Glass, Sanders Associates, Scientific Data, KLM Airlines.

Sperry Rand, down 1, looked like the most active issue.

New York Cenral lost 1⅞ to 60½ on a block of 15,000 shares.

DEARBORN, Mich. — The Mercury Colony Park station wagon will use radial ply tires exclusively in 1967, the first American-made car to adopt the revolutionary tires as standard equipment.

Boom Slowing Down, But Effects Showing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — If the pace of business boom is slowing down — as government officials assure us — why are the effects of its overheating becoming daily more pronounced?

Money is getting tighter, prices are rising, demands for credit are growing, business firms see greater need to expand their plants, larger wage demands are arousing fears of a new wage-price spiral that will further erode the buying power of the consumer's dollar.

All this is more evident in today's more moderate pace than when the economic upswing was really a crashing boom.

Comparing the rate at which the economy was growing in the first three months of this year with the slower pace this summer tells little or nothing about the amount of strain produced, according to the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., New York.

"The relevant thing is the growth rate in relation to the economy's capacity for growth," the bank says in its August survey, "and at a 4 per cent-or-under unemployment reading, such as now exists, the upside leeway for noninflationary expansion is modest if it exists at all."

The bank's economists list several reasons why they think "the economy will continue to bump up against its full employment ceiling for some time to come."

One is that the federal budget will be more of a stimulant in the second half of the year than it was in the first. Spending for Viet Nam will be one factor. Others will be medicare payments, and pay increases for civilian and military employees of the government.

A substantial net manpower drain to the armed forces as inductions exceed discharges will keep the labor market tight.

The bank doubts if there'll be a further drop in auto sales such as upset the market in the spring. And it sees the decline in home building more than offset by strength elsewhere in the economy.

All of this means continuing pressure on both prices and wages. A high employment economy, such as today's, tends to push demand in excess of the ability to supply it.

Speeding up corporate tax payments this year, and withholding more from personal paychecks, has cut the borrowing needs of the U.S. Treasury. But it has added to the needs of corporations and individuals to borrow. And the resulting increased demand for loans is now bearing fruit in mounting interest rates.

Polygraph Protection Called For

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The first president of the newly organized American Polygraph Assn. has charged each member with the responsibility of protecting the polygraph technique "from every effort to deprive society of this effective method of investigation.

"Every polygraph examiner should become acquainted with and play some part in the campaign activities this fall of legislative candidates who are not puppets of organized labor," said J. Kirk Barefoot, Greenwich, Conn., Director of Security for McKesson & Robbins in New York City.

Certain labor unions have opposed the use of the polygraph as an invasion of privacy. Polygraph examiners deny this. They say that no one is forced to take polygraph examinations.

State laws and local statutes hinder the use of a polygraph in a few cities and states. Barefoot said that the association will try to prevent the growth of such legislation. He said there are signs that the business community will offer financial and political support to these efforts.

Weyerhaeuser Gets Weese Lumber Co.

TACOMA — An agreement for acquisition of the A. De Weese Lumber Co. of Philadelphia, Miss., by Weyerhauser Co., Tacoma, Wash., it has been announced by the two firms.

Properties involved in the transaction include a pine plywood plant, a pine lumber manufacturing operation, a hardwood dimension plant, a wood treating plant and about 17,000 acres of nearby timberland. The pine plywood plant, opened last year, was the first of its kind in Mississippi.

Foster Homes Setup Target Of Criticism

By PAT PERRY
(Last of four stories.)

The sturdy 2-year-old squirms on his mother's lap—a comfortable lap for she's pleasantly plump. His brown eyes are bright and lively. Her eyes are blue, and sad. For she isn't his mother. And he isn't her son, and soon he'll go away.

She's raised him for two years, nursed him through fevers and teething and falls and tantrums. He calls her mother, and nobody argues. (How can you tell a child that his own mother abandoned him alone in an apartment when he was a few weeks old, that his own mother has, quite literally, given him away?)

She's his foster mother. She took him in as a tiny neglected baby, knowing full well that some day, sooner or later, he'd have to go. But the knowing doesn't stop the loving, or make it any easier to listen to social workers talk about "possible suitable homes" for him.

And herein lies the sadest aspect of adoptions in Marin County.

There are no orphanages in the county (not a fact to be lamented) — so all children awaiting adoption are boarded out in foster homes. Currently there are 90 foster homes in the county, and more are needed.

Although the foster parents know they're taking the children temporarily, often it happens that they want to keep the child permanently. Anyone can understand why. Even a bureaucracy understands. The California Civil Code on adoptions specifically states that foster parents may adopt their foster child.

Annie Jameson, division supervisor of the Marin County Department of Social Services licensed adoption agency, said no differentiation is made between foster parents and other applicants when home studies are being made for adoption.

In researching the adoption situation in Marin I talked to the foster mother of this lively 2-year-old in Terra Linda. She's been a foster mother for the County Department of Social Services for several years, has looked after 17 children of all ages.

The mother of four, she feels she cannot adopt the child, but she does have a distinct maternal interest.

"I don't ever want to hear of Marin County Welfare Department again," she said bitterly. "They're all tied up in red tape.

"They're more interested in creating a little kingdom than the children. They just want to keep up their caseload."

Her bitterness stems from the county's practice of not allowing inter-county adoptions. Friends who live in Humboldt County applied to adopt the child, and were refused consideration. Meanwhile the boy, relinquished for adoption some months ago, still awaits a new home.

She's also critical of the department's handling of foster parents in general, and charges that the Marin Foster Parents Assn., an active group for many years, folded up because of the department's hostile attitude.

Annie Jamison, division supervisor for the Marin County Social Services (Welfare) Department, contends the association dissolved because, while some members were more interested in social activities, others advocated information-type gatherings.

Another long-time foster mother is pediatrician Dr. Dorothy English. She and her husband, Dr. Ira Degenhardt have taken a succession of foster children, mostly teen-agers, in their Ross home. Theirs is an officially licensed foster home, but most of the children have come in on an informal basis.

Dr. English is a staunch advocate of foster homes against the institution type of housing.

Many of the children have had disadvantaged homes, and emotional upsets are common.

"Coming into a happy family environment gives a child haven," Dr. English said. "They should be returned to their family if possible in a better state than they left. It gives them sability, security inside themselves."

The Degenhardts, parents of grown children, have themselves adopted a daughter. They continue to take in foster children too.

"Taking children into your home is immensely rewarding," says the busy doctor simply.

How about the Terra Linda mother's criticisms of the adoption agency? Admittedly adoption officials tend to be rather secretive about their work, and perhaps slow. But it's an awesome responsibility for civil servants to determine a child's future. And adoption is forever, not a sometime thing.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

City of Larkspur, State of California.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City of Larkspur will receive sealed bids at the office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Larkspur, California, on or before 10:00 A.M., on the 7th day of Sept., 1966, for the furnishing of all labor, materials, and services required for the following designated project:

DOHERTY DRIVE EXTENSION — PROJECT 29 (2) SS

Each bid shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and contract documents prepared therefor, now on file at the office of City Clerk, where they may be examined, and copies thereof be obtained upon deposit of $10.00 per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition, on or before thirty days after opening of bids. Bids shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished by the City Engineer, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, currency or bid bond, equal to ten per cent of the aggregate amount of the bid, which amount shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract, if awarded him, and will file the contract bonds required within fifteen days after notice that his bid has been accepted.

The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any irregularity in any bid received.

Bidders are notified that, pursuant to law, the City Council has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and rates in the locality in which the work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract and the prevailing rate so determined is set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto and incorporated by reference herein. It shall be mandatory that all persons employed in the execution of the contract be paid not less than said specific wages and rates, and that existing labor agreements relative to overtime, holidays, and other special provisions, be recognized.

Bids received by the City Clerk will be opened and read publicly at the time, date and place above specified, and will thereafter be tabulated and submitted to the City Council for consideration.

Dated: August 17, 1966.

DEBUTANTE TEA IN BELVEDERE

Museum Guilds To Co-Sponsor Sixth In The Northgate Series

The fashion luncheon to be given Wednesday, the sixth in a series being held at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, will be sponsored jointly by the Northgate Group and all of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum Guilds of Marin Couty.

GENERAL chairman will be Mrs. John LaNoue with waitress chairman, Mrs. Karl Minnigerode, assistant waitress chairman, Mrs. Gordon Fraser and model chairman Mrs. Theodore A. Martin.

Each of the Guilds will provide a model for the fashions; and these will be Mesdames William Barash, San Anselmo; George Borden, San Rafael; Blaine Boyden, Greenbrae; Winfred Golden, Kentfield; Charles Hasler, Fairhills; David Howard, Mill Valley; Richard Hunter, Terra Linda; Virgil Jensen, Fairfax; William Lappe, Lucas Valley; McKenzie Moss, Ross; Raymond Perkins, Northbridge; Ronald Rouda, Belvedere-Tiburon; George Unsoeld, Marinwood; and Harold Valeschini, Glenwood.

PUNCH will be served at noon and luncheon will be at 12:30 p.m. Reservations are made by calling the Octagon House in the Marin Art and Garden Center.

New Bethel To Be Formed

The organization of a new bethel of the International Order of Job's Daughters is being considered for the North Marin County area, with plans to meet in Novato.

Girls between the ages of 12 and 20 with a Masonic relationship are eligible who live in the area, and may contact Mrs. Beth West, 2029 Huckleberry, San Rafael, or Mrs. Angie Goulder, 24 Ash St., San Anselmo.

San Rafael Girl To See Her Grandmother Graduate

A nine-year old San Rafael girl will see her grandmother graduate with this month's training class at Guide Dogs For The Blind tomorrow at 2:30 p.m.

Paamela Prohaska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Prohaska, 81 Woodland Ave., will watch her grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Prohaska of Albany, Ore., receive a golden retriever named Wing in the ceremonies which mark the conclusion of a month's training course for 12 man-dog teams.

Acting as hostesses will be members of Marin County Delta Gamma Alumnae. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Otto Kloppenburg of San Rafael, recently elected international president of Delta Gamma. The sorority devotes its philanthropic activities to projects for the blind, and the Marin alumnae chapter is a regular contributor to Guide Dogs For The Blind.

Serving tea at the reception which will follow the presentation of Guide Dogs to their new blind masters who have completed the month's training course will be Mesdames John Lewis of San Anselmo, John Lowey of Lucas Valley and Mary Ann Degenhardt of San Rafael. Mrs. George Aster of Larkspur is the chapter president.

President Of Theta Alumnae Collects Antique Artifacts

The newly-elected president of Kappa Alpha Theta Marin County Alumnae Club is Mrs. Branwell Fanning. She and her husband have resided in Tiburon for six years.

Carolyn Fanning was graduated from University of Wisconsin and taught school for four years. Branwell is a travel and transportation market consultant working in San Francisco.

The Fannings have three daughters, Diane, 12, Barbara, 10, and Kathleen, 4. Their love of sailing drew them to Tiburon. Both had sailed a yawl on Lake Michigan for several years. Carolyn and Bran enjoy tennis besides being interested in civic affairs. She is Republican area chairman and a member of Reed Guild of Sunny Hills.

MRS. BRANWELL FANNING

The new president also enjoys traveling, collecting antique artifacts for home decoration, sewing, painting and entertaining visitors from foreign countries.

Serving with her on the executive board are Mesdames Roy Taylor, vice president; Richard Sangster, secretary; and H. J. Frerichs, treasurer.

A barbecue meeting is planned for Sept. 10 at the Del Mesa home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hansen to which husbands are invited.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Old Fashioned Barn Dance Planned At Petaluma Ranch

By MOLLY MARIN

Marin debutantes and friends of Nancy Dickson and Judith Owen will attend a barbecue and old fashioned barn dance tomorrow evening at the Dickson brothers ranch on Lakeville Road in Petaluma

The event is being given by

Nancy's parents, the Fred D. Dicksons Jr. of Kentfield, and Judith's parents, the Robert Dicksons of Ross. The two honored guests are decorating for the party which will begin with a barbecue at the ranch house and continue at the barn where a small combo will play for dancing.

A NUMBER of Marin homes will be open for officials and crews coming from all parts of the country for the Women's North American Sailing championships to be held in Belvedere Aug. 28-Sept. 1. San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere, will be the host club.

Head judge, Alexander P. Gest, former chairman of the North American Yacht Racing Union, of Larchmont Yacht Club, New York, will stay with San Francisco Yacht Club Commodore and Mrs. Patrick Kirrane in Belvedere; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Nazro of Dallas, Tex., and Mrs. Allegra Knapp Mertz, Adams Cup chairman, of Long Island, will be the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Potter of Mill Valley; Robert E. Pegel of Lake Geneva, Wis., will stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boat in Tiburon.

Three-girl crews from the eight racing districts of North America will stay with Dr. and Mrs. Benton Mathews; Mr. and Mrs. Neville Rich; Mr. and Mrs. William Clum; Mr. and Mrs. John Lawson; Mr. and Mrs. Basil Knauth; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Shea; Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Mersereau, and Suzi Mitchell in Belvedere. Mrs. William Healy of Belvedere is housing chairman for the Adams Cup committee.

DR. AND MRS. Norman Klotz will host a cocktail party tomorrow night at their home on Lochinvar Road in San Rafael for around 140 friends from the Bay Area. Among the guests to attend will be Mrs. Klotz' sister-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Ames from Los Angeles, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Orval C. Ames of Reno, Nev. The host and hostess are marking their 35th wedding anniversary.

VACATIONING at the Banff Springs Hotel in the Canadian Rockies are the George J. Bakers of Mill Valley.

LEAVING FOR two months in Europe in early September are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simi of Belvedere. After a day in New York, they will fly to Holland, visit Belgium and spend a week in Austria. They will be in Vienna for their 24th wedding anniversary. They have tickets for a performance at the famed Spanish Riding Academy in Vienna. They will visit France and parts of Germany before returning home "in time for the election." Sidney Simi's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. Stanley Kern of Sleepy Hollow, will entertain the couple at a bon voyage dinner for 20 on Aug. 27.

THE KENNETH LAVERYS of Sacramento are announcing the birth of their first child, Kevin Patrick Lavery, on July 28. Mrs. Lavery is the former Virginia Miller of San Rafael. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller of San Rafael. The little boy will be christened in September.

VISITING IN Marin prior to establishing their home in New York are former residents of Loch Lomond, Mr. and Mrs. Val Gates. They have been living for 10 months in Saigon where Mr. Gates was with Shell Oil Co. They have been traveling in Hong Kong, Thailand and Taiwan on their way home.

MRS. ADA VIERRA, who came to Mill Valley from London 44 years ago, will leave Saturday for her first visit to her former home. Her children, who have all been born in Mill Valley, are Mrs. Wayne Hodges and Barbara Stevens of Mill Valley, Mrs. Anthony Crosby of San Rafael and David Stevens of Mill Valley. With her daughter, Barbara, Mrs. Vierra will fly to London for a five weeks' visit with three brothers and three sisters. She has been employed for the past three years at the Mill Valley post office.

'In' Crowd-er Finds Her Man Is Companionable But Crowd Misfit

DEAR HELEN:

I guess you could say I'm with the "in" crowd. I'm grateful for that, because I'm really on the outskirts. My family is quite well off but not rolling in money like some of my friends. I'm not gorgeous enough to get me there without money. But I'm accepted and liked well enough so that the others try to haul me out when I make the wrong decisions. This has gone on all through high school, and now in college.

At summer school I met a fellow who definitely wasn't in my crowd. He isn't smooth. He works as a janitor and is getting through college all on his own because his folks are dead. He isn't good looking, and I think that's what bothers my crowd most. They say he just "doesn't fit in." He couldn't care less about clothes; if he wears a tie at all it never matches anything else.

But for the first time in my life I can really talk to somebody. I thought others would recognize how wonderful he is —how understanding, full of ambition, etc.—and I was shocked when the crowd made fun of him.

Now, in spite of myself. I'm beginning to see all the things they see. I hate myself for not having the guts to go my own way, and then I think, what if we got married, and I found out they were right? Outside of having minds that seem to meet — even if we don't agree on things, we love to discuss them — we haven't much in common, except that we love each other — I think. Can you love someone you're a tiny bit ashamed of?

— SNOB

DEAR SNOB:

You may have more in common than you think. Could be your man is a little ashamed of you for your shallowness, but he figures, given time, you'll outgrow it. Talk your differences out together and you'll find you share doubts as well as love.

If you were so romance-blinded you saw nothing wrong with one another, I wouldn't give two beans for your marriage. But when you're aware of your doubts and shortcomings and able to discuss them, you are on pretty solid ground.

In marriage, like plus like sometimes equals friction because you're either competing with each other or recognizing your own weaknesses in your partner — and hating him for them. Few people like themselves well enough to live with a perpetual mirror.

The best matches come when one partner has strengths to counteract the other's weaknesses and vice versa. If you two measure up here, "Snob," forget what the crowd says and learn to be proud. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I have a 14-year-old brother and have to share my room with him. He leaves his clothes on the floor, under the bed, anywhere. I clean up because I'm ashamed to have friends see the room, but he couldn't care less what his friends think. Everytime they come over, it's a mess again.

It seems like my Mom is on his side, and my Dad won't do anything. She says, "Oh just leave it," but who wants to live in a pigpen?

When I say anything, he hits me. If I hit one of my two younger sisters, he hits me. He thinks he's king, just because he's the only boy in the family. Help.

—BROTHER TROUBLE, Age 13

DEAR B. T.:

A room of your own would be the most help of all. If your folks can't add on to the house, then perhaps they can add a partition. Why not draw up some plans? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I would like to know how certain kids become popular. They have dispositions like worms (mean and rotten); personalities like regards, they are ugly and also snobs. I'm not jealous, either. T. C. S.

DEAR T.:

Aren't you? —H.

Food Prices Hit Highest Levels In Twelve Years

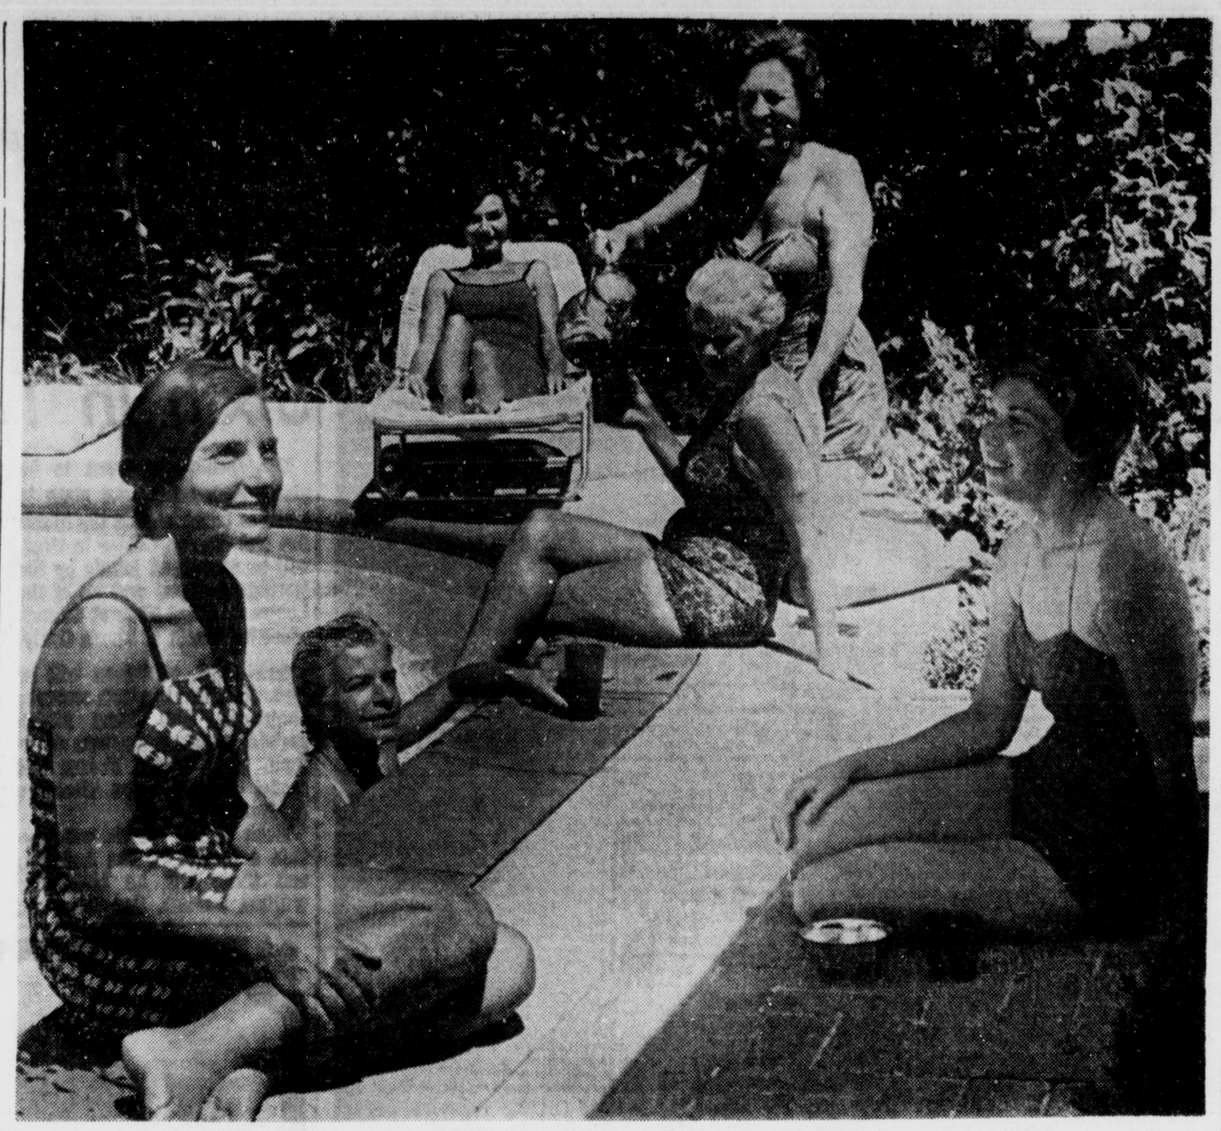
NEW YORK (AP)—Beef, ham, butter and lard took a big jump this week, pushing food prices to the highest level since 1954.

Corn prices are the highest in 10 years, and the crop has been shriveled by drought. Since more than three-quarters of the corn supply is used to feed livestock, the housewife may have to pay still higher prices for meat, milk, butter and eggs.

Milk and egg production in July were down.

Wholesale butter prices this week were the highest in 14 years.

The fruit outlook for this winter is good, too. There should be plenty of canned California cling paches, pears, fruit cocktail, applesauce and pineapple. Unfavorable weather has limited the fresh vegetables available in some areas of the country and raised prices.



PARTY AT THE POOL

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
Is summer television viewing a complete loss? Not if you choose your programs carefully. Among all the repeats, there are a number of worthwhile shows to be found. To help you be selective in your TV dialing, the I-J Marin Magazine each Saturday prints a complete weekly log of Bay Area stations—and points out for you some of the more unusual and promising programs. Keep this helpful guide on hand throughout the week.
But if television is not for you, then how about books? Each week the Independent-Journal's weekend supplement prints from two to three pages of reviews of the newest books. For instance, tomorrow, Sen. Paul Douglas' "America in the Market Place" will be reviewed. Also the new Commonwealth Club book, "The Powers of the President in Foreign Affairs." Two must books for students of government and international relations.

New Opera Auxiliary Picks First Chairman

Mrs. A. Barlow Ferguson of Kentfield is the Marin area chairman for the San Francisco Opera's new "Action" Auxiliary, which met for the first time Tuesday morning in the Opera House.

Sixty women attended the meeting conducted by the general chairman, Mrs. Lennart G. Erickson of Hillsborough.

The purpose of the Bay Area-wide groups is to assist the company in promotion as part of its drive to expand its activities in its 44th season, which has been lengthened to 48 regular performances and four for students.

Marin women serving in the Marin group with Mrs. Ferguson are Mesdames Babcock Smith, Frank H. Abbott III and Arthur Relfe of Kentfield; John O'Neil, E. Ten Of Paris's Appalling Designs—Mistake Or Joke?

By ALINE MOSBY

PARIS (UPI) — The Paris winter fashion shows displayed stacks of ravishing clothes, but there are several outfits that never would make my shopping list—10, at least, as you will hear.

Reporters who wade through more than 40 exhausting, smoky, stuffy style parades twice a year often are buttonholed later by friends who inquire, "But what did you see that you'd really wear?"

Most of the Paris clothes are wearable and gorgeous. There are many simple outfits for those who don't spend all their time on yachts and at gala balls and if I could afford a suit or dress from $800 up, I'd order 40.

But every designer makes mistakes, some so appalling you wonder how they were ever approved by the bosses to be shown to buyers and press. The designers also usually send out some amusing numbers on the runway not to sell but just to give the audience a laugh or the press something to write about.

WHETHER THESE WERE mistakes, jokes or sincere tries, herewith the 10 most unlikely styles to wind up in anybody's closet:

1. Yves St. Laurent's black jersey dress with two-foot wide padded red lips stitched right across the chest.

2. Nguyen Khanh's mini dresses of silver lame with solid silver breastplates held by plastic wires. They'd be cold.

3. Jacques Esterel's mini coats with wide zipped-on hems that came off to make the coats mini-mini, the length of a swim suit. Good grief!

4. Pierre Balmain's mink pullover shirt. When you went into a restaurant you have to pull it over your head, and there goes your hairdo.

6. Roberto Capucci's jumpers of black monkey fur or white ermine over blouses encrusted with sequins. Too hot. Too scratchy.

6. Pierre Balmain's black tights, tunic and hood with studded belt, and Yves St. Laurent's "mod and rockers" black leather suits with black boots and stockings. They don't look any different in a tony fashion house than on the street corners of Chelsea or Greenwich Village.

7. Jacques Heim's strapless short dress of black lace with a wide belt slapped around the middle, just like what ladies of the evening wear on the Place Pigalle.

Marylee Butler's Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Butler of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marylee Butler, to John L. Hardie, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Hardie.

Marylee is the sister of Byron W. Butler Jr. of Ridgecrest.

She was graduated from San Rafael High School and University of California at Davis, where she was active in campus offices and activities and has been special events coordinator.

Her fiance is a graduate of Modesto High School and U.C. at Davis, where he was student body president and is now special assistant to the chancellor and executive secretary of the Cal Aggie Alumni Assn. Mrs. Robert Friedberger of Lodi is his sister.

The couple's engagement was announced at a bon voyage party aboard the Lurline on her parents' 34th wedding anniversary. A Sept. 10 wedding at St. Luke Presbyterian Church in San Rafael has been planned.

SEPTEMBER nuptials in San Rafael are planned by Marylee Butler and John L. Hardie who are both graduates of University of California at Davis and now employed by the university. (Mapes photo)

Marketing Outlook On The Weekend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The weekend shopping picture, as reported by field representatives of the Agriculture Department's Consumer and Marketing Service, shows an uneven picture. In some areas, the meat and vegetable supply is in good form, while other areas, hit by the hot summer and dryness, show low supplies of some items.

In general, roast cuts, steaks and corned beef are plentiful nationally, but in the pork section only ham, and ham slices appear in good supply.

Broiler-fryers and turkeys are the traditional standbys in the poultry department. Remember they are the top protein buys.

Vegetables: green beans, celery, sweet corn, onions, and potatoes are in ample supply. Fruits: bananas, pears, and blueberries hold the fort nationally in that section. Fish sticks and portions and canned tuna are the national fish plentifuls.

Marin College Dean Turns In Resignation

The Marin Junior College District Board last night accepted the resignation of Roy Mikalson, dean of the evening college and community services, effective Sept. 12.

Mikalson has been named president of the new Clackamas Community College in Milwaukie, Ore.

He told the board that the appointment "came up suddenly," and that he regretted leaving College of Marin.

Chairman Robert E. Rogers said "this came as quite a shock, but we don't want to stand in the way of possibility of advancement."

Mikalson is the third administrator to resign within two months. Former College President Stephen E. Epler left this month. Planning Director James W. Duke is scheduled to leave by Sept. 15.

Trustees took a look at the proposed expenditures for dues and membership for the 1966-67 fiscal year, totaling $2,520, up $502 from last year.

They asked Acting President Irwin P. Diamond to examine the list of organizations involved to make sure they are essential.

Chairman Robert E. Rogers said, "Look into the California School Boards Assn. I'm not satisfied we're getting our money's worth." Dues for the association were estimated at $520 for the year.

Trustee Robert E. Oliver requested Diamond to select a few of the organizations where there is doubt and present justification for joining them.

The Marin Junior College District Board also:

1. Approved a student insurance program for the 1966-67 college year, providing coverage for students and athletes, at a cost of $4,850.
2. Approved renewal of its lease of the data processing building from Mobile Rentals Corp. at $6,937 for the 1967 fiscal year.
3. Approved a salary of $15,338 for this year for William Collins, administrative assistant, but ruled that the salary for the position would be placed in the $10,500 to $12,000 range in fiscal 1968.
4. Accepted the resignation of Milton G. Moss, construction inspector, effective Aug. 12.
5. Hired Mrs. Martha S. Montgomery as a typist clerk in the financial aids program, veterans subsistance and work-study program at $365 a month.
6. Approved two non-credit classes at San Quentin Prison—mathematics and sociology—to be financed by the Ford Foundation, a non-credit course in modern mathematics at Tomales, and a non-credit short course in California political and governmental structure.
7. Authorized hiring an additional librarian.
8. Received $1,400 from the State Division of Real Estate toward the real estate education program during the 1966-67 school year.
9. Approved a change order in the project to construct rest rooms at the football field, at cost of $1,324 to extend the sewer line.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy was absent for most of the session while she attended a meeting of the citizens finance committee in a nearby room. The board recessed after completing its scheduled agenda, sat in briefly with the finance committee, then reconvened to talk financing before adjournment.

Woman In Tam Attack On Probation

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court yesterday placed Sandra Moss, 20, one of three persons involved in an Aug. 6 assault on the county fire lookout tower on Mount Tamalpais, on two years probation.

He also ordered that Miss Moss, of San Francisco, pay $75 as a portion of damage to the tower. She had pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace.

A companion, Philip David Tammer, 25, was scheduled for probation office report and sentence Sept. 8. Tammer, a San Francisco State College student, pleaded guilty to malicious mischief.

Case of the third defendant, Lawrence Herome Coopersmith, 22, San Franciscan charged with felony possession of marijuana, was continued until 1:30 p.m. Monday. He already has pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace.

The three were arrested following an assault on the tower in what they told officers was result of their taking an LSD "trip." Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Anthonk said $445 damage resulted to the tower, including smashing of three windows.

Fire Barbecue

Kentfield and Larkspur firemen and their wives will attend their annual barbecue, hosted by the Kentfield Fire district, at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow at 131 Laurel Grove Avenue, Kentfield. The barbecue will follow a 10 a.m. baseball game between the two fire departments at Wolfe Grade School.

Corte Madera Works Yard Dedication Set

The Marin Municipal Water Disrict will dedicate its new Corte Madera corporation yard at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in ceremonies of three-fold significance.

Besides dedicating the facility, the ceremonies will mark the end "Willing Water Week,' sponsored by the American Water Works Assn., an unofficially celebrant the district's 50th anniversary. The district was formed Nov. 1, 1916.

Principal speaker will be Louis J. Stefani, former district superintendent and assistant manager, who will speak on "From There to Here in 50 Years." Stefani, 69, of 15 Elm Street, San Rafael, retired in 1962 after working 45 years with the district.

General Mgr. William R. Seeger will be master of ceremonies. Board President William A. Marcus will deliver the welcoming address. Rev. Thomas S. Ahern of St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael, will give the invocation.

The 5.26-acre plant on Tamal Vista Boulevard replaces the yard at Second Street and Grand Avenue, San Rafael. About 100 men work out of the yard, which has shops, warehouses and servicing areas for 150 pieces of district equipment.

Guided tours will follow the ceremonies, Seeger said.

Report On Novato Campus Cancelled

A report on plans for the Novato campus of the College of Marin, scheduled for Wednesday at Novato High School library, has been cancelled, according to college trustee Joseph D. Gargiulo.

He said the meeting had to be cancelled because of a conflict in scheduling, and will be held at a date yet to be determined.

House Refuses Additional Project Mohole Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has stuck to its decision to refuse further funds now for a project to drill through the earth's crust.

By a standing vote of 108 to 59 yesterday, it refused to go along with a Senate amendment which would have provided $19.7 million in new appropriations.

The House had refused last May 10 to include the funds in a $14-billion appropriation bill for various government agencies. The Senate later added money for the project. The House acted a second time after Senate-House conferees had been unabel to resolve the issue. Other differences on the bill had been resolved.

During House debate yesterday, an Illinois Republican reported that the family of the project's top contractor had contributed $25,000 to the President's Club.

Rep. Donald Rumsfeld said yesterday the funds were donated by the family of contractor George R. Brown between the time the House originally rejected the costly Project Mohole and the time President Johnson asked the Senate to restore it.

The Brown and Root contracting firm of Houston, Tex., holds the prime contract for Mohole — estimated by some to eventually cost as much as $125 million. About $55 million already has been appropriated.

"Perhaps this is all another preposterous coincidence," Rumsfeld said in a statement. But he added that there are "too many 'preposterous coincidences'" involving the donations to the President's Club — one of the Democratic party's leading means of raising funds.

Rumsfeld said records show that Brown's three daughters and their husbands contributed $23,000 to the club May 13. Brown contributed $2,000 May 21, Rumsfeld added.

The House voted to kill Project Mohole May 10. On May 18, President Johnson urged Congress in a message to "appropriate the funds so that construction of this vital instrument (Mohole) can begin promptly."

The Washington Post reported that Brown, in a telephone interview, called it "ridiculous" to link the contributions to the President's message or to Project Mohole. He was quoted as saying he had pledged the funds "long before this thing came up."

About 25,000 acres in the Florida space center have been set aside as a national wildlife refuge.

Driver Scraped By Sliding Motorcycle

A San Leandro man suffered multiple scrapes when his motorcycle swerved and slid 55 feet on its side along the Belle Avenue offramp at Highway 101, San Rafael, at 2:05 a.m. yesterday.

Warren D. Cline, 23, was treated in Marin General Hospital for face, hand and arm cuts. His northbound cycle overturned and threw him, according to officer Robert E. Borzone of the California Highway Patrol.

Knit Suits Stolen

Two women stole knit suits worth $115.90 from Luana's in the Corte Madera Shopping Center yesterday, Corte Madera police reported.

Library Labors Pay Off

Mill Valley To Unveil New Edifice

Mill Valley's new $493,000 library — after years of hope and hard work by a devoted army of library lovers — will be unveiled Sunday at a public reception from 4 to 7 p.m.

Punch and cookies will be served. Free souvenir bookmarks will be given to visitors.

A suggestion box will be provided for the public to outline projects they would like the library to initiate. Library trustees and staff will act as guides.

The library will open for business at 10 a.m. Monday. A moratorium on library fines will end Wednesday, warne dHead Librarian Dorothy Thomas.

OFFICIAL RITES

Official dedication, complete with speeches, will be Sept. 18.

The library was financed by a $325,000 bond issue approved by voters June 2, 1964, after two defeats of earlier bond issues to replace the 56-year-old library on Lovell Avenue. A $123,112 federal grant and $45,000 from the city's capital reserve bring the total to about $493,000.

The old library was closed Aug. 4 so books could be moved to the new library at 375 Throckmorton Avenue in the northeast corner of Old Mill Park. The old building not only was inadequate in size, but stood atop a towering set of steps that tended to limit its use to the hearty. The new library is at street level.

The library was designed by Donn Emmons, Mill Valley architect and partner in the firm of Wurster, Bernardi and Emmons.

RICH DECOR

The main, street-level floor is carpeted. Redwood paneling was used extensively throughout both floors. The main floor houses all public service areas except the art gallery and a public meeting room, which doubles as a board room.

An open deck extends half the length of the library on the park side of the upper floor. High windows frame Mount Tamalpais and redwoods in the park.

There is seating for 60 persons in the main reading room and for 40 in the children's room.

Principal use of the basement floor, in addition to housing a staff lounge, the gallery and board room, is to store books.

Total capacity of the library is almost 100,000 volumes, with 40,000 on open shelves. The library now has about 52,000 volumes.

General contractor was Ira W. Coburn of San Francisco.

Judge Refuses Lower Bail In Child Beating

Eugene A. Boehm, 21-year-old Greenbrae resident, was arraigned in Marin Municipal court yesterday on a felony child beating complaint arising from the death early yesterday of the 16-month-old son of Boehm's common law wife.

The suspect, an unemployed furniture finisher, was granted a continuance by Judge Peter Allen Smith until 1:30 p.m. Monday to seek counsel and enter a plea.

Boehm also requested a reduction in his $11,000 bail so he might work and gain funds for an attorney. Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Anthony made strong objection to a bail reduction. He pointed out that Boehm, accused of the beating which resulted in the death of Timothy Wayne Buckley, son of Mrs. Roberta Marie Buckley, 70 Lucky Drive, has "no real roots" in the community.

"He has every reason to run and no reason to stay," said Anthony. Judge Smith declined to lower bail. Boehm remained in county jail at noon today.

Sheriff's officers said the child apparently was beaten Wednesday morning at the Lucky Drive residence, where Boehm, Mrs. Buckley, and Michael William Todd, 21, all reside.

They said Todd drove Mrs. Buckley to her job as a San Rafael restaurant waitress, and returned to find Boehm with the injured child. The two men placed the unconscious child in a car, picked up the mother at work, then took her and the child to Marin General Hospital shortly before noon Wednesday, they said.

Dr. Arthur R. Ablin, one of three physicians who attempted to save the child's life, termed it the worst beating of that kind he has seen.

The victim died 18 hours after being admitted to the hospital.

Boehm was quoted as saying the child fell from a table in the home, and also that he was injured in a fall when the car suddenly halted at a red traffic light.

Change Thief Enters Unlocked Window

Change and rolled coins totaling $44 were stolen from the home of Malcolm C. Piper, 34 Scyamore Avenue, Mill Valley, he reported to police last night.

Access to his home was through an unlocked bedroom window, police said. A neighbor reported that two boys, about 10 years old, ran from the back of the house at about 1:30 p.m.

BEES TROUBLE ENOUGH, BUT BIKE THIEF, TOO

Eleven-year-old Larry Stump of Muir Beach escaped from a swarm of bees on Frank's Valley Road Wednesday, but he lost his bicycle in the process.

Larry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stump, jumped from his bicycle to brush away the attacking bees and headed for home about a half-mile away on foot, leaving his bike behind.

When he returned about two hours later, the bicycle, a gold-colored sting-ray model, was gone, Mrs. Stump reported.

Besides the loss of his bicycle, Larry suffered "three or four bee stings," she said.

Larkspur Library Board Agrees To Policy Changes

Acting on instructions from the city council, the Larkspur library board has agreed that the Larkspur library shall be open 33 instead of the present 21 hours a week, effective Sept. 1.

The board also agreed on salary ranges with systematic pay increase for library employees, and set a new work schedule for the staff. Though the library will stay open longer, said librarian Helen S. Wilson, the number of hours worked will remain the same.

New hours for the library are 1-9 p.m. Monday and Friday, 1-6 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and 10 a.m.-noon Saturday.

The head librarian, who now makes $400 a month, would be placed at the first step of a $481-$584 range. The assistant librarian, who now makes $350 a month, would be placed at the first step of a $385-$469 range. The part-time assistant librarian, now making $2.50 an hour, would make $3.25. The page, now making $1.35, would receive $1.50.

City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst said he would recommend these raises for city council approval. They will result in a slight decrease in the library board's original budget proposal of $20,897, he said.

Tam Fire Board Reviews Plans Of New Station

Tamalpais Fire Protection District directors last night reviewed preliminary plans for a proposed firehouse to replace the main station.

The new firehouse will be built on the property owned by the district adjacent to the present firehouse at 309 Poplar Street.

Chief Herbert M. Owen, who drew the preliminary plans, said it will house six trucks, twice the capacity of the present firehouse.

Estimates and detailed plans for the new firehouse are to be drawn by Joe Allen, architect and president of the Tamalpais Valley Improvement club.

College Board Enlargement Vote Favored

It took the Marin County Committee on School District Organization just one minute last night to agree that the Marin Junior College District Board be enlarged and the issue placed on the ballot in November.

If the larger board is approved by the voters, the additional trustees would be elected next spring.

Committee members approved the proposal that the college board be enlarged from five to seven members, elected at large. They went into session at 7:15 and adjourned at 7:16.

Their action came after a 10-minute public hearing at which there was no protest. About a dozen persons—college board members, college administrators and staff members attended.

Oil Paintings Stolen

Theft of 11 oil paintings, valued at $585, was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Bertha Brown Clark, 12 Alvarado Avenue. They could have been taken anytime during the past 10 days, she said, because she has so many paintings that the loss was not immediately noticed. The unframed oils were of nature scenes, she said.

Ross Adopts Budget, Ups Tax 13 Cents

The Ross Town Council last night unanimously adopted a $179,014 budget for fiscal 1967 and set the tax rate at $1.40 per $100 assessed valuation, up 13 cents from last year's rate.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen proposed the final budget as adopted, suggesting cuts totaling $4,500 from the budget studied at the Aug. 12 council session.

Eliminated were $2,000 for Phoenix Lake maintenance, $2,000 for expansion of water mains, and $1,000 of the $5,000 allotted for care of trees. The council added $500 to the allocation for remodeling of Police Chief John Harris's town-owned residence.

The approved budget shows $25,010 for the fire department, $42,440 for the police department, $16,864 for the street department, $42,782 for general government, $11,578 for storm drains and flood control, $16,618 for parks, $2,612 for the bond interest and redemption, $4,966 for a capital expenditures reserve, and a general reserve of $8,044.

The $1.40 tax rate breaks down into $1 for general expenditures, 15 cents for parks, 10 cents for retirement fund, and 15 cents for storm drains and flood control.

The council approved the budget in less than half an hour. The vote met with applause by the nine persons in the audience.

The council postponed to October a city census request and authorized calling for bids for remodeling of the police chief's house.

Children Confess Petty Theft Series

Four cases of petty theft were solved yesterday with apprehension of two brothers, ages 11 and 12, according to Novato police.

Police reported the boys admitted taking a $20 transistor radio from the home of Ross Bernard Akers at 16 Driftwood, Novato, soft drinks and candy from Lee Brothers market at 950 Seventh Street; a flashlight from Safeway store, and four rings from the Medicine Chest, both in the Novato Fair shopping center. They were released in custody of their parents after reprimand.

Pay Phone Stolen

A pay phone with an undetermined amount of money in it was torn from the wall and stolen outside the Leon Felton Volkswagen agency on Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael early yesterday, according to San Rafael police.

STAY AWAY FROM DOMINGO CANYON!

(Unless, of course, you insist on these five things in your home.)

1. Lots of space. The one thing you can't have too much of. And every inch usable. Like huge family rooms (some with wet bars). Dining nooks next to the kitchen. Big garages with ample hobby and storage areas. Entry halls and big living rooms for pleasant entertaining.

2. Solid values: An honest home, to put it bluntly. With up-to-date features that make a real contribution to better family living. Features like award-winning floor plans. Separate dining rooms. Family-size kitchens, with the latest and most useful built-in appliances. And tasteful appointments stem to stern.

3. A secluded valley location. A little off the beaten path. With softly rolling hills. And big oak trees. And the green fairways of the Marin Golf and Country Club right next door. And a bonus; the City is only a short, 25-minute drive away.

4. Perfect weather. Warm sun in the summertime, instead of gray fog. After all, the climate has been called one of the best in California.

5. A good, established neighborhood. Prestigious, in other words. Where—in less than six months—some 76 very particular families decided to live.

If you insist—and you should!—you'll probably find practically everything you are looking for at Domingo Canyon. To say it's worth seeing is putting it mildly. 3, 4, 5 and 6 bedroom homes from 32,950 to 39,950. FHA and conventional financing. Guaranteed trade-in program. Go north on Highway 101 six miles past San Rafael and turn left on Ignacio Blvd. Turnoff. Follow the signs to Domingo Canyon. American Housing Guild sales office: 883-7838.

Marin Buyers Spending Their Money In County

For generations Marin's best-dressed people—men as well as women—bought their clothes in San Francisco.

The volume of sales in Marin was so small, comparatively, that local merchants couldn't afford to carry stocks large enough to offer wide ranges of sizes, styles, colors, materials, etc.

"Turnover" was small. If you visited a shop once during a season, returning for a second visit the same season would be to no avail; the merchandise would be the same. Not much of it had moved. There was nothing new.

After World War II—in the late 40s and early 50s—Marin merchants set about to change all this.

With help from University of California consultants, a drive was undertaken to encourage refurbishment of stores, inside and out. Training sessions were held to teach store clerks to be more helpful and courteous to customers.

Periodic special merchandising events like Red Tag Days and Dollar Days were started to attract new shoppers to local stores.

At some point in time about a decade-and-a-half ago, Marin merchants finally began to score. Marin residents began to buy more in Marin and less in San Francisco, even before traffic congestion and parking problems in downtown San Francisco discouraged shoppers.

Increased sales volume enabled Marin merchants to carry larger stocks, more variety, and to turn over their merchandise faster. No longer was one visit a season all that was necessary to keep track of what a given shop had to offer.

Marin residents found it ever more attractive to shop in Marin, even before the advent of the new centers at Corte Madera and Northgate.

Field Research Corp. (headed by Mervin Field of "California Poll" note) recently studied Marin shopper habits for the I-J.

He found that Marinites buy 99 per cent of their groceries here, 91 per cent of children's apparel, 95 per cent of drugs and sundries, 85 per cent of liquor, 72 per cent of women's apparel and 65 per cent of men's apparel.

Marin women buy twice as much clothing in San Rafael and Northgate as in San Francisco. Marin men buy more than half again as much apparel in San Rafael, Northgate and Corte Madera as in San Francisco.

The old days when Marin merchants wrung their hands in despair as "all the business goes across the Bay" are gone—we hope forever.

However, Marin men still buy 35 per cent and women 27 per cent of their apparel across the Bay. Marin merchants still have some "selling" to do to bring this business "home" where it belongs. The job so ably begun years ago still needs to be completed.

August—A Time To Travel

More than any other month, August is the time Marinites hit the road or take wing. As summer approaches its finale and before Labor Day's zero hour, America is on the move.

This is the time most people seek to commune with Nature — in the woods and forests, by lake or stream, in the mountains or by the sea, travelers are drawn like lemmings by some primordal urge to seek their natural origins.

Whatever the reason, August is a time to travel.

Controversial Issue Of Tuition For State Colleges On Horizon

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The controversial question of tuition in state colleges and the university will be the subject of discussion at a meeting of the Assembly Committee on Higher Education August 25-26 in Santa Cruz.

This announcement was made by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus, D-Reedley, who noted that the committee is engaged in a two-year study of the tuition-free system of higher education in California.

"The days when California could scoff at the idea of college tuition at our state institutions are past," Garrigus said. "The enrollment pressures, on our taxpayers are simply too great in California today.

"I hope that this sub-committee can shed a little more light, and less heat, on this vital area, and assist the 1967 session of the legislature in resolving the problem."

Among the remedial measures to be discussed will be a bill proposed by Assemblyman John L. E. "Bud" Collier, R-Los Angeles. His bill calls for a system of repayment for education by students who have graduated from the college, based on the earning capacity of the student after he has entered the economic life of the community.

Collier previously has proposed this measure, and it has been referred to committee for study. The Los Angeles assemblyman, who has served some time on the education committee, says frankly that his plan, or some other plan to obtain tuition funds is necessary, or else the people of the state will be required to pay higher taxes for higher education.

"The tuition-free concept of public higher education," said Garrigus, "has been maintained for a number of years. But the tremendous influx of new undergraduate students into the University of California, the state colleges, and especially the public junior colleges, requires a re-examination of this concept.

"At our hearing on this subject last year in Long Beach, we discovered that a moderate charge for tuition might bring an additional $40 million into the state treasury to upgrade the state's financial support of higher education.

"But of far more importance, the subcommittee learned that public higher education in California is not really free now. The university and the colleges have increased incidental fees to the point where a qualified but needy student is often discouraged from attendance, although there is no formal tuition.

"I hope the hearings in Santa Cruz provide the legislature with ways and means of charging those able to pay a reasonable sum, while keeping the college doors open to the needy and able students."

Whatever the outcome of the Santa Cruz hearings, the subject of tuition in public institutions of higher learning will continue to be highly controversial.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in his campaign speeches, has stressed the point of maintaining them as tuition free institutions.

On the other hand, many legislators, such as Assemblymen Collier and Garrigus, feel that the time has arrived to lower the burden on the taxpayer through the collection of at least modest tuition from students who are benefitting from the education they receive in these institutions.

Neighbor's Behavior An Embarrassment

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Saturday, Aug. 13, an audience of 600 at the outdoor Marin Shakespeare Festival in the Ross Art and Garden Center was unable to hear large portions of the "Merchant of Venice" becaues of the deliberate noise and music emanating from a home on Skyland Way, Ross. Afterwards the cast apologized, for apparently this battle has been waged for several years.

Although no legal action has been taken, this family's incredibly rude behavior is an embarrassment to all of Marin County, especially as many in the audience were from San Francisco and the East Bay. It was also infuriating to me as a member of that audience.

Festival Disruption Source Of Disgust

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On the evening of Aug. 13, several hundred people were subjected to a deliberate attempt to disrupt a brilliant performance of "The Merchant of Venice" at the Marin Shakespeare Festival. We do not pretend to know all the facts of the dispute involving the Festival and its near-by neighbors. What we do know is that even in the Bard's era disagreements were solved by legal methods, not by petty harassment. The crude, juvenile technique displayed by the family adjoining the ampitheater was a source of irritation and disgust to all who attended the performance.

It is time that some impartial local group, such as the Ross Town Council or the Board of Directors of the Art and Garden Center, sought a solution to this continuing problem. Some agreement must be reached between the parties concerned.

In the meantime, we remind the local neighbors that they are far fro mthe only people in Marin County who live next to a public location, such as a school, church or park. In addition, we are reuesting that they show some degree of adult restraint and responsibility. The performers, both in front and behind the scenes, work very hard to please their audiences and deserve this courtesy.

Brown Will Be Judged On Issues

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Gerald Amanda (letters to the editor, Aug. 12) and Governor Pat Brown would have the voter believe that the central issue in the gubernatorial campaign is whether Ronald Reagan has adopted views of the John Birch Society regarding welfare, the University of California, etc. This ploy is understandable since Reagan and the Republicans have raised some embarrassing questions regarding these subjects, such as: Why are such extravagant sums of the state taxapayers' money needed for welfare (over $800,000,000 this fiscal year) and poverty programs if economic conditions in California are as good as Brown claims they are? Why have state welfare agencies permitted such misuse of welfare funds as the purchase of jewelry for boy friends by recipients of aid-to-needy-children money (I.J., 3/7/66)? Why should wage earners be taxed to pay for the obtaining of higher educational degrees by welfare department employees on leave from their state jobs (I.J. 11/16/65)? Why should the state welfare director dictate to counties that they hire extra welfare workers when the elected supervisors of those counties consider their present staffs adequate (I.J., 8/5/65)? If the University of California is so well run, why have three times the normal number of professors resigned since the spring semester of 1965 (Examiner, 7/31/66)?

According to results of Field's California Poll, published June 24, the following were the issues which the people considered the most important in the final election: (1) taxes and government finance; (2) schools and education; (3) welfare programs; (4) race problems; (5) transportation and freeways; and (6) air and water pollution. Brown may as well realize that when November rolls around, voters will judge him by what he has said and done on these issues, not by how much he dislikes the John Birch Society.

Driving Festival Away Not A Service

Editor, Independent-Journal:

While attending a superb performance of "Merchant of Venice" in the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross Saturday (Aug. 13), my sixth grade students and I were annoyed to hear a purposely loud record player blasting over the words of the actors from the hill above. We were surprised to learn that this was the crude method of the people in the home back of the outdoor amphitheater of annoying the packed theater of people and the large cast of hardworking actors. My students and I feel that the people in that home must have known when they bought the house that a cultural center was near them and if not pleased about this fact they know they can shut their windows, move, or come see the show rather than vent their wrath on an innocent cast and audience.

Surely they don't feel that by drowning out the actors and driving them away they are doing this area any service. With the closing of the Actors' Workshop, we should try to save the few cultural groups we have who work for so little pay to preserve a taste and love for arts.

Shakespeare lovers have packed that amphitheater for several years and four nights a week to see these productions. This number of people alone should attest to the need of the group, plus the fact that many come from as far away as Los Angeles (and probably farther) to see them.

If we lose this gem of culture we will have a long wait before a replacement comes along. Where else for one or two dollars could one find such excellent actors, brilliant costuming, balmy climate, and lovely setting, so near to home? Nowhere! Keep them here.

Marin County was allocated $45,000 in federal funds for preliminary planning of the county Civic Center.

A total of 3,309 cars moved across the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge during the first 10 hours it was open for traffic.

Trustees of the Family Service Agency of Marin voted to close its Marin City offices and consolidate services at the San Rafael headquarters.

Powell, Dodd Cases Are Clear Examples Of Double Standards

WASHINGTON — Take the two cases of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut.

Here is a vivid and inexplicable example of how a double standard of moral judgment manifests itself in public and political life.

Here we have one member of Congress — Representative Powell — who is a convicted law-violator, guilty of slander, guilty of evading the sentence of the court for nearly two years, and guilty of contempt of court.

BUT THERE is virtually no public or political condemnation of this man for his many offenses—for his law violation, for his spreading of disrespect for the courts, for the harm he did to the elderly woman he slandered.

He is thus far unpunished by law and unpunished by public or congressional opinion. He seems to be held virtually blameless by his political peers.

And, in contrast, there is the other member of Congress —Senator Dodd. He has been accused of no violation of law and he is convicted of no crime. He is charged with being too friendly with a lobbyist for whom he did some personal favors outside the Senate. He is charged with improprieties in handling funds raised at testimonial dinners.

IN SENATOR DODD'S case, though the charges are unproved and he has not been convicted by any kind of court, there has been wide condemnation and he has suffered severely at the hands of public and congressional opinion before the issues have been adjudged.

This is what I cite as a double standard of moral judgment. I can't explain it and if readers have any good explanations I'd be interested to have them.

Last week New York State Supreme Court Justice Irving H. Saypol held Representative Powell in "criminal contempt of court" for failing to pay a $162,000 judgment to Mrs. Esther James, a 68-year-old former domestic servant whom Mr. Powell had slandered by calling her a "bag woman for corrupt police."

THE NEXT STEP in the Powell case will come when the congressman will stand trial in early September before a jury, a special referee, or a judge to determine the extent of Mr. Powell's contempt before Justice Saypol passes sentence. When Justice Saypol gave Representative Powell's lawyer a final chance, before his criminal contempt ruling, to make a commitment on behalf of the congressman to appear in court at a specified date with his financial records, the lawyer was unable to give any promise.

But Senator Dodd has appeared day after day before a jury of his peers, the Senate Ethics Committee, which is investigating the allegations of unethical acts which have been brought against him.

BUT ON SENATOR Dodd it seems as though the verdict—and a very condemnatory one—had already been rendered by public and political opinion. There is head-shaking all over Capitol Hill. He is being dismissed as a "lame duck" whose political career is at its end. The wake has begun.

But there is no headshaking, no wake in progress, for Representative Powell, to suggest that he has been hurt or harried by offenses that go beyond doubtful ethics. He has been tried for slander, convicted, sentenced—so far unsuccessfully—and he goes gaily on.

If Dodd's offenses justify a Senate investigation, Powell's offenses cry out for a House investigation. But there isn't a stir in that direction.

Improved Missile Warheads To Hanoi

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Russia is supplying North Viet Nam with an improved warhead for SAM ground-to-air missiles.

The first of these new warheads arrived several weeks ago aboard the Simferopol, the Soviet vessel that covertly transported the first intermediate range ballistic missiles to Cuba in 1962.

As happened on its trip to Cuba, the Simferopol was in constant direct radio contact with the Kremlin's main communications center near Moscow.

U.S. NAVAL PLANES and ships, that kept the wide-hatched Soviet vessel under close surveillance, reported that two nuclear-powered submarines accompanied the Simferopol throughout its long sea journey from the Black Sea port of Odessa.

Still unknown is whether the new warheads are nuclear or an improved conventional-type explosive with a wider destruction range. Most intelligence experts are of the latter opinion.

Intensive efforts by intelligence to learn more about the mysterious cargo were severely limited by the exceptionally stringent security measures enforced by the Russians and the North Vietnamese in the Haiphong harbor area where the Soviet ship docked.

A HEAVILY ARMED ring of North Vietnamese troops was thrown around the section for 72 hours during the unloading of the Simferopol. Only persons with special military passes were permitted to enter or leave.

U.S. aerial photographs, by low-flying naval reconnaisance planes under intense anti-aircraft fire, revealed more than 30 large steel containers and wooden crates on the docks and deck of the freighter.

ARMED TRUCK CONVOYS, traveling under cover of darkness, took the remaining steel containers and wooden crates to an unknown destination in the northern section of North Viet Nam near the Chinese border.

Intelligence authorities, in stressing the significance of the Simferopol cargo, point out that during the recent unloading of several hundred SAM missiles from three Soviet bloc ships—the Kurak, Brasov and Kuybydhev—no special security measures were taken.

The experts are also citing the fact that Soviet technicians are known to be installing an improved radar network throughout North Viet Nam, presumably to increase SAM accuracy.

THE NUMBER of U.S. aircraft hit by SAM missiles doubled from eight to 16 in the first three weeks after the new "Band-C" radar—as it is called—went into operation around Hanoi and Haiphong. During that period six other Air Force and Navy planes were damaged by near-misses.

With the Soviet increasing the number of SAM missile launchers in North Viet Nam from 300 to more than 500, U.S. aircraft losses are expected to mount when the Communists' improved warheads and new radar network become fully operational.

If the new SAM warheads turn out to be nuclear, there would be instant retaliation in kind.

U.S. plans for such an eventuality call for the immediate use of small tactical atomic bombs against the missile sites from which the warheads are launched.

However, while President Johnson and his policy-makers have not ruled out this sinister possibility, all except a small minority believe that neither Hanoi nor Moscow is prepared to risk nuclear war.

New Use For Redwoods Found: Supporting A Slipping Street

Mill Valley has found a new use for redwood trees. It isn't enough that they provide man with shade and lumber—here they are being used to hold a street from slipping down a canyon.

It all came about early one January morning, during the wet time of year, with the collapse of a tired retaining wall supporting the downhill embankment of a so-called street in Blithedale Canyon. In its rush to get the road off its back, the old wall swept a little shack off its pins, hurling it downhill toward a main through street.

Enter the redwoods.

FORTUNATELY for the family renting the shack and for the multitude depending upon the lower road for access to their houses, the shack got no farther than two stout redwood trees—about six inches downhill. The occupants were not injured, but the poor shack had had the schnitzel.

Now, the city wants the shack demolished as a public nuisance, but the tree supports the collapsed shack, the shack supports the collapsed retaining wall, the retaining wall supports the partially collapsed embankment, and the embankment supports the partially collapsed street.

DEMOLITION of the shack, city engineer Stanley Bala has warned, may bring the whole street down the hill. The legal problem is: Who is responsible for the collapse of the retaining wall? The city or the property owner?

In its wisdom, the council deferred action Monday on demolition pending review of the matter by the city attorney.

At least one example of cooperation between city officials and businessmen in Mill Valley has blossomed. Sixty-four trees planted in the commercial districts in October, 1962, have begun to fill out handsomely and make a substantial improvement in the appearance of several streets downtown.

COST OF THE PROJECT, $3,836, was split by the Chamber of Commerce and City Hall. Ten trees failed to prosper, and have been replaced. One, the object of many a dog's affection, has died a second time. It is to be removed and its space cemented over—a monument to the tenacity of Mill Valley dogs.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer complained this week that reports that the city sewage treatment plant pollutes the bay are unfair. Source of the pollution is the bay itself, he claimed.

Bay water infiltrates pumping stations of Kay Park Sewer Maintenance District No. 2, which are below sea level, he explained, goes through the Mill Valley plant and back into the bay.

He seemed to mean it.

Top Secret Official Who Thinks Unthinkable Things Tells Story

WASHINGTON — It is not generally known, but among the brain trusts in our government is a man who probably has the most important job in the country. He is in charge of thinking the "unthinkable."

His name is Jean Pensepas and his work is so secret that only a few close friends and associates know exactly what he's thinking.

HOW I GOT to see and talk to him is not mine to tell, but I was granted an interview and given permission to put down what he said.

Mr. Pensepas told me he first started working for the government early in the Eisenhower administration when it was unthinkable that we would get involved in a war in Southeast Asia.

'While everyone else said it was unthinkable, I started to give it some thought. I concluded we ought to put some American advisors into Viet Nam just to let the Viet Cong know we meant business.

"In 1964 Barry Goldwater made some very strong statements about Viet Nam," Mr. Pensepas said. "He advocated bombing North Viet Nam. Defoliating the Ho Chi Minh Trail, escalating American troops, and fighting the war until the enemy gave in. President Johnson said this was unthinkable and he turned the problem over to me. Well, I thought and thought, and I finally decided all these things weren't as unthinkable as the President thought they were."

"DO YOU THINK the President really thought they were unthinkable or was he just saying it because it was an election year?" I asked.

"It's hard to tell about the President. He thought it was unthinkable that the machinists wouldn't settle in the airline strike, and what he thought about the steel price raise was not only unthinkable but unprintable. So he might have been sincere in 1964 when he said that Barry Goldwater's proposals were unthinkable."

"But why did he change his mind"

"I started thinking about it. All those unthinkable things Goldwater said made sense from a military viewpoint, and once the President felt Hanoi would not come to the conference table, he started to have second thoughts," Mr. Pensepas said.

"Do you think about unthinkable things after somebody does them?"

"OF COURSE NOT. Once you do an unthinkable thing, it's not unthinkable anymore. For example, before we bombed the oil tanks around Hanoi and Haiphong, that was unthinkable. Now everyone takes the bombings for granted. Then it was unthinkable to bomb the demilitarized zone between North Viet Nam and South iVet Nam, but people don't think about it anymore. My job is to devote my time to things that are absolutely unheard-of."

'What about Marshal Ky's suggestion that we invade North Viet Nam?"

"At the moment that is still unthinkable, but just the other day former Vice President Nixon said in Saigon he didn't blame Marshal Ky for suggesting it. So it's really not as unthinkable as it was a month ago. It takes a little time for an unthinkable thing to be adopted, particularly if it comes from somebody like Marshal Ky."

"SOMEONE SAID that there would soon be a million Americans in South Viet Nam. Is that unthinkable?" I asked.

"No, I wouldn't say it was. One thinks it is until you study the statements of Dean Rusk and Robert McNamara, and then you start thinking otherwise."

"What is the most unthinkable thing you're thinking about now?"

"You mean if China comes into the war?"

"You're not thinking about using the . . . ?"

Mr. Pensepas smiled. "It hasn't been completely ruled out."

Water Pollution Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Public Works Committee unanimously approved a bill yesterday to authorize a five year $2.3 billion program to rid the nation's lakes, streams and entire river basins of pollution.

Though far more than President Johnson's original $50 million request for one year, the sum was in line with a revised administration proposal. The Senate has approved a $5.9 billion program.

While the bulk of the money is for municipal waste treatment plants, the bill also provides funds for research into new ways of handling the waste that now flows into waterways as well as aid to agencies for developing water quality control standards and programs.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Data Processing Conditions, Tax Rise And Revenue Slumps

FUSSELMAN

TWO HEADLINES IN the I-J on Wednesday: "Marin Tax Rate Jumps Up Again"—And this one: "Novato Tax Rate Cut By 17 Cents."

This year the Novato rate will be 75 cents. Last year it was 90 cents.

Most of you, I imagine, read the two front page stories. You read how the city councilmen were intimately conversant with the immediate problems before them — how they and their city managers were working side by side with a common knowledge of the city's needs and with a flexibility in their thinking which permitted "right now" decisions.

The Marin County tax rate will be raised from $2.23 to $2.245 because of "a serious slump in revenues from building permit fees and from the county recorder's office"—so "estimates of income for the current fiscal years will have to be lowered by $60,000."

IS IT POSSIBLE that the majority members of the board of supervisors were not aware of this slowing up of business activity? It was mentioned enough times in the press.

Did any of them ask the administrator whether he was making allowance for this and for other related impacts? He was moving over into the planning field and warning the board of the perils of the San Andreas fault out in West Marin.

But he was not able to advise the board about conditions in the data processing department, which he maneuvered for years to have placed directly under his control. (He approached me in 1961 in this regard).

Treasurer-Tax CollectorStanley J. Fontez complained about the bad situation there in July. When the board asked the administrator for an answer he said it would take 30 days.)

Well, on page 25 of the I-J on Wednesday this: "Supervisors Stymied On Computer Program"—Then this: "Marin County supervisors yesterday spent an hour trying to decide what to do to get better use of the county's expensive data processing machines."

"EVERYONE in the room seemed to agree that the computers are not being used as well as they should, and supervisors heard several ideas on how to improve matters. Most involved money, and the supervisors decided to wait and see if some of the problems would iron themselves out." Nice?

When the suggestion was made that Data Processing Director Arleigh Sewell be given freedom to decide whether systems and programming work should be done by county employees or by outside contract, the chairman termed this "a top management decision."

He said it ought to be made either by the board or the county administrator. Again, this department is directly under the administrator.

So what goes?

A man, well trained in the systems procedure, said to me once, "You know they surround themselves with the seven veils of mystery to keep the public from knowing anything about it!" There are a number of commercial concerns in the bay area that this work can be farmed out to.

I OFTEN suggested that this possibility be studied as to cost in comparison to the heavy rentals that are paid under the present set up, but got nowhere with the idea.

The real humdinger, Tuesday, came from the new $18,000 County Planning Director. He "complained that department heads should not have to outline their data processing needs in a context of fitting them in with other departments." (Move aside boys and let me through.)

He concluded that, "What you really need to do is expand the budget of data processing." This is the fellow who was permitted, on his request, to hire absentee personnel to "expand" his department until they finished their present commitments and could come to work full time for the county.

There was a strong editorial in the I-J on this. Comes it along the upmanship with the administrator.

I was sorry to read of Julius Selinger's resignation from the personnel commission. He was my appointee many moons ago and his devotion to a non salaried job was one of the nicer things that occurred while I was on the board. My personal thanks.

701 Plan Meeting

The first specific recommendation stemming from Sausalito's 701 plan will be made next Wednesday at a special meeting of the city planning commission by William Spangle and Associates of Menlo Park, consultants for the revision of the general and central waterfront development plans. The meeting begins at 8 p.m. at city hall.

Marin Planners To Consider Dias Ranch Development Plan

The Marin County Planning Commission Monday will see the first development plan submitted for the Dias Ranch on 170 acres west of Mill Valley.

The planning commission meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The Dias ranch development plan will be item eight on the agenda.

First development proposed by owner Alfred J. Stearn calls for construction of 122 dwellings, a sales office, and recreation facilities on 22 acres at Shoreline and Panoramic Highways.

The commission also will consider the appeal of a use permit granted to allow a low cost apartment building for the elderly proposed by the Marin Housing Authority at 342 Linden Lane, Homestead Valley. This is number two on the agenda.

Number five is consideration of an appeal by Frank M. McAuliffe from zoning administrator denial of a use permit for a motel on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard just west of Centura Avenue in Lagunitas.

Number 10 is consideration of architectural supervision asked by Halsted and Co. of San Francisco on a 100-unit motel proposed on the west side of Highway 101 opposite the Civic Center.

Number 14 is the request of Dillon Beach, Inc., for a change of zoning on 25 acres of beach property from agricultural and commercial to resort and commercial recreation.

Judge Backing War With Pigeons

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco, which is at war with pigeons, has the backing of a Superior Court judge.

Judge Joseph Karesh ruled yesterday the city has the constitutional right to exterminate the birds and the SPCA can legally execute the trapped surplus birds.

Attorney Evandon C. Smith, who sought to prevent the bird killings, said if the money could be raised, the ruling would be appealed.

The world's rivers deposit two billion tons of salt in the oceans each year.

Original Notice of Default filed for record in the Office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California on August 4, 1966, under Recorder's Serial No. 23650.
No. 1446 Aug. 12, 19, 26, Sept. 2, 1966

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Friday, the 26th day of August 1966, at the hour of 11:00 o'clock a.m., in the lobby inside the Lincoln Avenue entrance to the Title Insurance and Trust Company, being the building located at the Northeast corner of Lincoln Avenue and Mission Street, in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, a corporation, as trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property, situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows, to-wit:

PARCEL ONE:

PARCEL TWO:

A private exclusive easement for private boat docking, storage and anchorage purposes over that portion of that certain 20-foot private boat docking, storage and anchorage easement lying within the prolongation of the lot side lines of parcel one above described and lying within lot 168, as shown on that certain map entitled, "Map of Bel-Marin Keys, Unit 2, in the County of Marin, California," filed July 27, 1964 in Book 12 of Maps at page 87, Marin County Records.

Said sale will be made, without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain deed of trust executed by ARTHUR A. TOMBAUGH AND MARIANNE M. TOMBAUGH, his wife, as trustor, to TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, a California corporation, as trustee, for the benefit and security of THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES, a corporation, dated January 3, 1966 and recorded January 5, 1966 in the office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Book 2014 of Official Records, page 130.

Dated: August 1, 1966.

This ad will run every day until the house is sold!!!
THIS IS AD No. 1
Cooperative seller built his own house and put everything into it. A CPA, his costs exceed $41,000. Very large three bedroom, two bath, family room, dining area, view home with every conceivable built-in. Professionally landscaped —a near perfect home. With confidence in us as his broker, the seller asked us to name the correct asking price in order to have this home sold in a reasonably short period of time. With confidence in our own judgment, we are running this ad every day until this house is sold. We feel that this is one of the best values offered in today's real estate market.

LOOKING DOWN ON GIANTS

Among nearly 1,000 coast redwood trees more than 300 feet in height, one now has been established to be 369.2 feet, reports University of California Forester Paul J. Zinke. The tree (at tip of white marker) exceeds by a foot and a half the previously "tallest tree." The 369.2-footer is barely a city block from U.S. Highway 101, shown below, running from north to south, and crossing the South Fork of the Eel River at lower left. The main Eel is at upper left in this photo. Old Highway 101 runs right past the newly measured giant. The photo shows Founders' Grove from 20,000 feet.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

Captain Kangaroo Wants Kids To Laugh And Learn From TV

By ROBERT MUSEL

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the most refreshing things about Captain Kangaroo—ask your child who he is if you don't know—is that his program is assembled without the aid of educators, psychologists or even a computer.

The credit for what is among the most successful formulas for a children's program anywhere in the world goes to the parents among the original staff who helped Bob Keeshan create the Captain Kangaroo character 11 years ago, and their offspring.

The parents asked their kids questions about what they would like to see and from the consensus emerged the daily CBS-TV program which gently helps educate the five to eight year old group in the process of entertaining them.

It is a surprisingly complex job and the program has a permanent staff of about 65 people. Geeshan, himself, a pipe-smoking thoughtful fellow, when he is not in the wig and costume of his role, was studying a script based on chemistry when we spoke in his office.

The Captain Kangaroo character reflects years as Clarabelle the Clown and Corny the Clown on television before CBS asked him to develop a program for them in 1955.

"We were looking for something alliterative," he said, recalling how the program got its name, "and it ties in with the large pouchlike pockets I have in my costume."

These days when a board of scientists is practically mandatory for any show which purports to educate, Keeshan goes along drawing a huge segment of the available audience with programs largely the result of sheer common sense.

"The shame of American television is that it's one thing or the other," he said, "its educational or its entertainment. It's almost never a combination of both. But to combine the two is the aim of Captain Kangaroo and has been from the start.

"We're fairly intuitive now. We've got no experts on child behavior on the staff. Our people have their own group of youngsters and we know what this age group can assimilate. This script on chemistry may seem a bit technical to you as you read it but its only a guideline for me.

"We think of my character as a funnel and I take the technical bits and funnel them to the children so they will understand them."

Any child watching the chemistry program, scheduled for Aug. 31, will learn something about silver, carbon, tunsten and helium—through some amusing byplay with a silver spoon, a pencil, a light bulb and a helium balloon.

In a screening room Keeshan ran a film he took in Holland. Portions of it will be broadcast for two weeks starting Sept. 30. It looks like a travelogue but the narration is shrewdly baited with easy facts.

Keeshan said he used to ask his three children for advice about the show but they are, he sighed, "well beyond it now."

The youngest is already 11 and only looks in occasionally.

Accused Burglar Is Arraigned

William Francis Victorine Jr., 19, of Atascadero, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on two complaints of burglary.

Judge Peter Allen Smith appointed the public defender to represent him and continued plea to this afternoon.

Victorine is accused of breaking into a locked vehicle owned by John D. Howard in Novato on May 24, and of burglary of a building occupied by James Samuel Rose at 475 Arthur Street, Novato, on June 1. He was returned yesterday from San Luis Obispo, where he has been in jail, to face the charges.

Treasurer Resigns For College Stint

Kenneth Mettler resigned as treasurer of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce yesterday, saying he plans to return to college, first at Sacramento State, then at University of California at Davis, to work for a master's degree in agricultural business administration.

Mettler, who is assistant secretary of Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn., was replaced on the chamber board of directors by Peter Edwards, publisher of the Fairfax-San Anselmo Reporter. Directors did not appoint a new treasurer.

Chamber directors announced that Frank Quinn, director of athletics in San Anselmo, and Wallace S. Myers, a San Anselmo attorney, have been selected as radio station KABL "citizens of the day."

Christopher Aide Crosses To Brown

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — James A. Kelley, 35, executive assistant to former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher, quit his post yesterday to join Californians for Brown, an organization supporting the governor's re-election bid.

A Republican, Kelley said the governor's philosophy is closer to that of Christopher and Sen. Thomas Kuchel, both Republicans, than to that of the GOP nominee Ronald Reagan. Christopher lost to Reagan in the June primary.

Council To Discuss Tree Ordinance

The Tiburon City Council, meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in city hall, is slated to discuss preparation of an ordinance regulating the cutting and maintenance of trees on public property.

The council will also officially set the fiscal 1967 tax rate at 60 cents per $100 assessed valuation and introduce an ordinance including the city in the county civil defense program.

Free Speech Leader Applies For Winter

BERKELEY (AP) — Mario Savio, leader of the Free Speech Movement at Berkeley in 1964, has applied for re-admission to the winter quarter at the University of California, beginning Jan. 6.

Savio was turned down Wednesday for re-admission to the fall quarter because he applied too late.

A new lead concrete, the first such high density material capable of installation by mass production methods, has been formulated for use as shielding against intense radiation.

Bus Ticket Book Cost Ordered Cut

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The state Public Utilities Commission has ordered reductions in costs of commuter bus ticket books from Contra Cost County and Vallejo to San Francisco effective Sept. 1.

The PUC reduced yesterday the cost of books from Contra Costa points by 40 cents. Greyhound sells books good for one round trip each day except Sunday during a calendar month from Lafayette to San Francisco for $20.40.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA JUNIOR TOURNAMENT

Leach Nips Hawken In Golf Thriller

Ray Leach of Novato was trying for the Northern California Golf Assn. Junior Amateur championship today, going against Bob Eberle of Hanford in the 36-hole finals on Lake Merced golf course in San Francisco.

Leach squeaked by Don Hawken of San Rafael in a hectic semi-final match yesterday that wasn't won until the 19th hole. Both 16-year-olds finished the regular 18 holes with even par 73's and were deadlocked in the match play competition.

On the extra hole, Hawken, defending champ from last year's Norcal tourney, was short with a chip shot on the par 4, 415-yard first hole, leaving himself with a 12-foot putt. He was down in two putts for a bogey.

Leach was on the green in two, 30 feet from the flag. He putted to within three feet of the cup and then dropped it in for a winning par.

Leach, a junior at Novato High School, made it look like it was going to be a runaway when he went 2-up on the first three holes. But Hawken, a senior at San Rafael High, charged back and won the fifth and sixth holes to even things up. Then Leach went ahead on the seventh, Don caught him on the eighth, and they halved the ninth to round the turn dead even.

The second nine was just as tough. Ray went 1-up on the 10th but Hawken won the next two holes to take the lead after 12 holes. It stayed even until Ray sank a birdie putt on 16 to take the advantage. But it was Don's turn to birdie on the 17th to tie it up. Then on the 18th, Hawken almost walked away with the triumph.

He had a 10-foot putt for a birdie, but missed, and the Marin County duo halved the hole with pars, sending the match to an extra hole.

"I thought he'd make it," said Leach.

"Yes, it was a real good match," said Hawken.

Leach and Hawken each had four birdies and four bogeys for their even par 73's.

Eberle, the 15-year-old golf whiz out of Kings County, downed Sandy McCall 3 and 2 in yesterday's other semi-final match. Eberle is the surprise player in the tournament. He shot a 90 in the 1965 qualifyions and improved so much in the past year he won medalist honors in the qualifying round this time, and now finds himself in the finals against the young, but experienced, Leach, the lad who barely missed qualifying for the U.S. Open in San Francisco a few months ago.

BRODIE GETS CALL TO START PORTLAND GAME

MORAGA (AP) — Quarterback John Brodie will start his first pre-season exhibition football game for the San Francisco 49ers tomorrow night against the Pittsburgh Steelers at Portland.

Substitute quarterbacks Bill Kilmer and George Mira both have directed the team in previous exhibition tilts this year. Brodie, who was involved in a long contract dispute which delayed his arrival at the National Football League team's training camp, has not played.

With Brodie will be another new face in the starting lineup, third-year tight end Vern Burke, who will replace veteran Monte Stickles.

"Stickles started the first two games and we played the rookies quite a bit in the last game," Coach Jack Christiansen said.

Boccabella On Hitting Spree; Warriors To Practice Here

JOHNNY BOCCABELLA, whose, future with the Chicago Cubs seems brighter with every passing day, has seen considerable action this week and seems to have found his batting eye. With a bang.

Against the Dodgers Sunday the San Anselmo slugger had three hits, including a homer, and scored four runs in seven at bats. He became the first Cubbie to homer in Dodger Stadium this year.

Then on Monday and Tuesday against Philadelphia Johnny Sock was one for four each day, followed by two-for-five performance against the same Phillies on Wednesday.

With 7 for 20, his week's average came out to a lusty .350.

This is the former Marin Catholic hero's fourth season in organized ball and his first full year in the majors. Leo Durocher already has announced that John looms as the regular first sacker next season, replacing the fading Ernie Banks.

John, who suffered a dislocated elbow earlier this season, should see more and more action down the homestretch this season and if he continues to hit like he has this week could wind up with his picture on a bubble gum card.

THE SAN FRANCISCO Warriors are scheduled for an Oct. 6 appearance at College of Marin, playing an intra-squad game with net proceeds going to the American Cancer Society.

THE I-J's Ralph Chatoian may not wash his hands for the rest of the baseball season. He actually held the ball Willie Mays hit for his 535th home run Wednesday at Candlestick. The historic horsehide—destined for a prominent niche in the Hall of Fame—was passed around the pressbox Wednesday and Chatoian clutched it starry-eyed for a few fleeting moments. Not many people can say they have their fingerprints in th Ball of Fame.

THE WAY THINGS are shaping up, former All-Marin League end Larry Stein of Drake should see heap big action for the Stanford Indians this season.

The Stanford grid prospectus informs us: "Stein, a sophomore, played end for the 1965 freshman team and was shifted to right half in spring practice. The boy indicated that he can be used to good advantage as a flanker or split receiver, and showed improvement each day. He is not a great threat inside, but this may come with game experience. Larry has good hands, adequate speed, and real determination to be a top-flight football player. With seasoning and added aggressiveness, he should be a good performer."

MISNOMER OF THE WEEK: Nickname of the championship team in the Greenbrae Lanes Marin General Hospital League is — "The Losers." And I'm wondering if they're patients or employees.

INFLATIONARY NOTE: Pro Tom McHugh of the San Geronimo National Golf Course dead-pans, "I don't want to show my age, but I remember when they used silicone to weatherproof golf shoes." He said flatly.

THIS BEING the height of baseball season and start of football, it hardly seems proper to discuss basketball, but Marin Athletic League fans can expect big things from the Tamalpais Indians next cage season.

In the summer league at Drake High, next season's Tam varsity has won seven straight games with an aggressive and well-balanced attack, featuring starters Steve Woodward, Mike Biber, Steve Johnson, Leroy Barrow and Pat Schaefer, plus a good bench.

One scouting report: "They're not too big, but they more than make up for it with aggressiveness and balance." It looks like new Tam coach Bernie Schneider has inherited a winner.

Mrs. Cardinal Wins At Peacock Gap

Class A — Mesdames William Cardinal, 97-19—68; Victor Verdellet, 87-18—69; John Sauter, 90-20—70.

Bolin Vs. Atlanta Tonight

The power laden Atlanta Braves bring their bombs into Candlestick Park tonight to open a three-game series with the San Francisco Giants. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Giants manager Herman Franks planned to send Bob Bolin (7-7) to the mound against Denny LeMaster (11-8. It was hoped Juan Marichal will get his first shot at the Braves this year in either of the day games tomorrow or Sunday. Gaylord Perry will try to become the major league's first 20-game winner in one of these two Braves games.

VIRTUAL TIE

The Giants were just one percentage point out of first place going into tonight's game after the Pittsburgh Pirates lost to the New York Mets—with the help of four errors by ex-Giant Jose Pagan—9-5 yesterday. The Giants were idle.

Tony Cloninger will pitch one of the three games for the Braves. Tony was the one who hit two grand slams and drove in nine runs July 3 when Atlanta whipped the Giants 17-3.

JANSEN STRICKEN

All was not happiness for the Giants yesterday, however, with Larry Jansen in the hospital. The pitching coach was reported in satisfactory condition early today after suffering shap pains in in his chest. Jansen, 46, was admitted to Peninsula Hospital Wednesday night and is under observation in an intensive care unit.

After the Braves series, the Giants host the Cincinnati Reds Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, get a day off and then take on those hated Los Angeles Dodgers in a crucial three-game set next Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Then comes a 10-game road swing, starting in Philadelphia for two, moving to New York for two and St. Louis for three and then winding up in Los Angeles for a big three.

PRO GOLF SHOWS OFF ITS 'BENCH STRENGTH'

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The pro golf tour showed off its bench strength in the first round of the Insurance City Open, where none of the top four leaders is listed among the top 60 tour money winners.

Former Masters champ Art Wall Jr., Wes Ellis Jr. and Homero Blancas shot out in front yesterday with six-under-par 65's. Australian Kel Nagle was next with 66.

But several of golf's big money winners went into today's second round in good climbing position. PGA champ Al Geiberger and Bobby Nichols posted 67's; Arnold Palmer had 68 despite missing 11 birdie putts inside of 20 feet; and Billy Casper shot 69.

Casper, the U.S. Open champion and defending Insurance City titlist, also had putting difficulties, which he attributed to an overdose of golf.

In the 1965 tourney at Wethersfield, Casper started poorly with 70 and 72, then came down the stretch with a pair of 66's to tie Johnny Pott at 10-under-par 274. Billy won it on the first sudden-death hole with a 15-foot birdie putt.

Pott also had 69 yesterday

Of the leaders, Blancas has the best money showing this year—$13,423. Wall plays on the tour infrequently, and Ellis is still recovering from a torn cartilage in his side that he suffered two months ago.

Nagle, who has never won a tournament in the United States has bagged seven national championships around the globe, including the 1960 British Open. He tied Gary Player at the end of the 1965 U.S. Open, then lost the playoff.

The first round of the Insurance City Open came up with another case of a player disqualified for failure to sign his score card. It was topflight amateur Dick Siderowf of Westport, Conn., who had been tied for fifth place at 67.

An official of the PGA pointed out that when the players finished, a large sign on the scorer's table urged them to sign their cards.

Jack Tuthill, PGA tournament supervisor, was asked if any changes are planned in the rule. He said it was up to the United States Golf Assn., and added:

"I suppose it could be modified — maybe a two-stroke penalty — but that would bring in further problems of getting a player to verify his score."

Buc Lead Shaved; Dodgers Triumph

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Met fans were singing, "Jose, can't you see?"

The object of their derision was Pittsburgh's Jose Pagan, normally about as sure-handed as any third-baseman in the league, but yesterday the perpetrator of four errors.

The errors, three in one inning led to six unearned runs and enabled New York to beat the National League leading Pirates for the second straight day, 9-5.

Jose's three errors in the fourth inning tied a league record. The first came with Ron Swoboda on first, two outs and the Mets one run ahead. Pagan fumbled pitcher Rob Gardner's grounder and Ron Hunt promptly tripled in the two runners.

Next, Ed Bressoud bounced one at Pagan, but his throw to first was low and the ball bounced up against Donn Clendenon's unsuspecting chin as Hunt raced home. Then came a soft bouncer by Cleon Jones that the intrepid Pagan grabbed, then lost. Jones was picked off first, though, ending the inning with the Mets ahead 6-2.

Pagan's first error came when Hunt, leading off the Mets' first, hit a hard grounder, which Jose had trouble handling. By the time the inning had ended, the Mets were leading 3-0.

New York Manager Wes Westrum viewed the situation with unconcealed glee. "We've been beating ourselves with errors against the Pirates all season," Westrum said. "This time, we did the same thing to them."

In the only other National League games, Houston edged Cincinnati 5-4 and Los Angeles clipped St. Louis 3-1.

In an abbreviated American League schedule, Minnesota beat California 6-2 and Cleveland shut out Chicago 2-0.

Pittsburgh's loss left the club just one percentage point ahead of the idle San Francisco Giants in the battle for the league lead. Bill Mazeroski hit two homers for the Pirates, while Jerry May hit the first of his career and Clendenon his 20th of the season.

Errors by Tommy Helms and Pete Rose in the eighth inning opened the gates for the two runs that gave Houston the victory. Johnny Edwards homered for the Reds.

Don Drysdale scattered six hits and picked up his ninth win for the Dodgers. Willie Davis homered and Jim Lefebvre drove in two runs with singles.

Two Marin Boys In S.F. Net Finals

Two Marin County boys were competing today in the finals of the San Francisco City Tennis Championships at Golden Gate Park.

Andy Moffat of Mill Valley was to oppose Paul Sidone of Pebble Beach in the Boys 14 finals, and Dan Tierney of Tiburon was to go against Eric Lee in Boys 10 finals.

Andy defeated Bob Klyce of San Rafael 6-2, 6-3 in quarter-finals yesterday, and then beat Ron Miller of San Francisco in the semis, 8-6, 6-3. Then Tierney downed Peter Morris 6-4, 6-1 in the quarter-finals and Jimmy Morrison in three semi-final sets 1-6, 6-3, 6-2

Dissension? Bucs A Happy Team

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) —It bugs Harry Walker that some people picture the Pittsburgh Pirates as a ball club ripped by dissension and as an unhappy house divided — primarily against him.

It bugs him so much because he claims it isn't true.

From all the evidence, Walker seems to have a legitimate beef.

There have been a couple of isolated incidents involving a few of the Pirate players and Walker this season and he readily admits to them, but he says they happen on every club, which is true, and further adds they all were smoothered over, which also appears to be so.

"If there's any dissension on this club," said Walker in a corner of the clubhouse loud enough for his players to hear, "I wish I have this kind of dissension for the next 10 years.

"I've heard it said that I talk too much," went on the Pittsburgh manager. "Maybe I do talk a little too much, but I teach by it.

"Any time I have to get on one of my guys, I worry about it. I don't sleep all that night. I'm trying to improve myself the same as they are and I don't feel I have all the answers. Possibly I am over-critical at times and maybe it would be better if I waited a while before pointing out a mistake. But you get better production out of ball players when you let them know immediately what you think. That's my feeling, anyway."

"He got a little hot and I got a little hot," said the Pirate manager. "What's so wrong about that? It's healthy so long as it doesn't get out of hand. And it didn't. It's all forgotten about now. We sat down and had a little talk after the game and we both got a few things off our chest. Nine out of 10 times, a misunderstanding can be settled by sitting down and talking about it."

As proof that the Pirates are one big happy family, Walker mentioned the hi-jinks that go on in the clubhouse after each Pittsburgh victory. The players don funny looking paper hats and award each other "Blue Max" paper medals in a comic ritual patterned after a current movie about German fliers in World War I.

"I'm all in favor of it," he said. "They release a lot of tension that way. They're a carefree laughing bunch and they give me 100 per cent on the field. They hustle more than any club in this league and not only am I proud of them, but I told them so during one of our meetings."

No manager is a hero to any of his ball players, but if Walker should ever get into a tight spot, all of his men would be right there to help him—even if they do think he talks them to death at times. Walker knows this.

"In my heart," he said, "there's not a man on my club I don't like. And I'd be glad to take a lie test on that."

Colts Vs. Cards On TV Tonight

ST. LOUIS (UPI) —The Baltimore Colts and the St. Louis Cardinals kick off the third week of National Football League exhibitions tonight in a nationally televised game (9:30, PDT, Channel 5) from Busch Memorial Stadium.

Although both coaches will give rookies plenty of playing time, as they gain last minute looks at doubtfuls on their rosters, Baltimore comes looking ready for the ball.

As Baltimore people know, the Colts open against the champion Green Bay Packers, a team that beat them three times last season, including the Western Division playoff. "We have to be ready for our opener Sept. 10," said publicist Harry Hulmes.

Saturday's schedule of NFL exhibitions will pit Green Bay at Dallas, Chicago against Washington at Norfolk, Va., Cleveland at Atlanta, Los Angeles at Minnesota, and San Francisco against Pittsburgh at Portland.

More Action For Raider Ace Daniels

SANTA ROSA (AP)—Oakland Raider Coach John Rauch says he intends to use halfback Clem Daniels more extensively this weekend against the Boston Patriots in a football twinbill in Anaheim. San Diego plays Kansas City in the other game.

Daniels missed the preseason opener against Houston because he was involved in a contract dispute with the American Football League team. Teammate Art Powell, an end, also missed that one.

Daniels was used sparingly last week against the San Diego Chargers but Powell scored the Raiders' winning touchdown in the 14-7 decision. Powell will alternate this week with Larry Todd.

"Clem's in pretty good shape and he did a fine job moving the ball on the ground while he was in there last week," Rauch said. "It was a good first game showing. He'll start against Boston and play the first half."

Only quarterback Cotton Davidson, injured in the opener, is expected to sit out the weekend tilt. Injured guards Wayne Hawkins and Dick Tryson are expected to return to the lineup.

Marin All-Stars Eye Second Place

A battle for second place is on tap tonight in the final game of the seventh annual San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament between Marin All-Stars and Luna's of San Francisco, 6:30, at San Anselmo's Memorial Park.

A win by Luna's would leave the two teams deadlocked for second.

In last night's action, the Larkfield Merchants of Santa Rosa suddenly awoke to topple Two-Rock Army of Petaluma, 9-0.

The top-rated Santa Rosans had dropped their previous three tourney outings by one run each time.

MARIN GOLFER SCORES THIRD HOLE-IN-ONE

For those who play golf against George Steinert of San Rafael: Don't bet against him getting a hole-in-one. He just might surprise you.

Steinert, of 513 Francisco Boulevard, aced the 151-yard eighth hole at the Meadow Club in Fairfax Tuesday using an eight-iron. It was his third ace at the Meadow Club in the last seven years.

Three years ago during a tournament he scored a hole-qin-one on the same eighth hole, and four years earlier he aced the 14th.

NAT'L AAU SWIM

Schollander Off To A Fast Start

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Olympian Don Schollander, king of the world's swimmers, started his quest for an unprecedented sweep of the four freestyle events by regaining his world 400-meter mark with a 4:11.6 clocking on opening night at the 16th National AAU Outdoor Swimming and Diving Championships yesterday.

Tonight the 20-year-old Schollander, a Yale student heading the powerful Santa Clara Swim Club, is a good bet to smash his own world 200 freestyle mark. He holds the listed record of 1:57.6 and broke this with a 1:57.2 at Los Angeles last month. Now his goal is 1:55.

The first 10 events in the four-day championships produced two world marks, a third bettering an oft-beaten listed world mark, and one world record equalled. The latter was by 17-year-old Martha Randall with her second 4:38 flat in two years in the women's 400-meter freestyle.

The women's 200-meter freestyle final tonight seems certain to produce a world record. It matches Miss Randall of Philadelphia's Vesper Boat Club, holder of the listed American mark of 2:12.3, against Santa Clara's Pokey Watson, 15-year-old Olympic gold medalist whose 2:11.6 last month at Los Angeles equalled the world mark set by Australia's Dawn Fraser.

John Nelson, 18-year-old Olympic silver medalist from Pompano Beach, Fla., broke Schollander's world 400 freestyle mark of 4:12.2 with a surprising 4:11.8 in yesterday's preliminaries. He was a close second in the finals with a 4:12.2.

"At least I held the record a few hours," Nelson said.

Schollander swam the first 100 meters in an amazing 59.8. Nelson had 1:04 and never caught up. Schollander's other split times were 2:04.3 and 3:08.4.

"I wanted that record back, and I was pretty confident," said Schollander. "I hoped to go a little faster, but I'm happy with my time.

Karen Muir, a slim, freckle-faced 13-year-old from South Africa, set a world mark of 2:26.4 in the women's 200-meter backstroke, turning the 100 in 1:09.4. This bettered her pending world mark of 2:27.1.

Blonde Catie Ball, 14, of Jacksonville, Fla., again broke the battered listed world mark of 1:16.5 with 1:16.3 in prelims of the 100 breaststroke, equalling her career best, and 1:16.4 in the finals. A Russian girl, Galina Prozumenshchikova, holds a pending world mark of 1:15.7.

Other winners of nation crowns were Charles Hickcox, Indiana Aquatic Club, 200-meter backstroke in 2:12.4; Ken Merten, Los Angeles, 100-meter breaststroke in 1:08.9; Sue Pitt, East Brunswick, N.J., women's 100-meter butterfly in 1:07; Mark Splitz, Santa Clara, 100-meter butterfly in 58.1; Sue Gossick, Tarzana, Calif., women's 3-meter diving and Bernie Wrightson, Phoenix, Ariz.,men's 1-meter diving.

Lenore Ends Swim After 66 Miles

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Leonore Modell, a 16-year-old Sacramento school girl, set a new world's long distance swimming record of 66 miles before fatigue forced her to quit late yesterday.

Miss Modell was pulled out of the water about 11 p.m., more than 36 hours after she began her marathon swim.

She had hoped to swim 100 miles but her father, George Modell, said she became too tired to go on.

The teen-ager broke the old record of 60 miles about 8 p.m. yesterday. The record had been held by Ted Erickson, a Chicago research scientist.

Miss Modell entered the 66-degree water Wednesday. She swam around a five mile course at Lake Natoma, about 15 miles east of here.

The air temperature was more than 100 degrees Wednesday but it was cooler yesterday.

It's Fun To Be Able To Report Happy Tidings For A Change

STEVENS

It's a grand and glorious feeling to be able to sit down at the old typewriter and pound out some happy tidings for a change, and that's what I am able to do today. Unless there's a radical change in the weather, all local anglers can look forward to a very productive weekend.

If it's salmon you'd like, all signs are go-go. If it's bass, it's the same. And ditto cats and crappies.

BETTY URBAIS of the Sausalito Boat and Tackle had a lilt in her voice when she called me Wednesday to report the good news of salmon trolling. "They (salmon) were found close in off Duxbury and Slide Ranch. We had two boats out. The Bluefin netted 18 salmon to 20 pounds for 9 rods; the Blue Horizon had a short load — six anglers — but each took home two fish. At least the take was 13 for the six rods working. Two of the salmon weighed over 30 pounds each and the top one, handled by Earl Bigelow, weighed in at 40 pounds, 8 ounces."

For a welcome change, the ocean was like an inland lake, hardly a ripple. Most of the fish were taken on anchovies and most of them hit late in the day.

JOE NAVARRO, of Harder's Sporting Goods in Hayward, reported Dan Powers landed one 18- and one 22-pound striper off Pacifica. I understand 44 bass to 29 pounds were landed in the same area but was unable to learn the name of the boat and skipper.

Incidentally, Navarro must believe in the oldtime cliche, "All comes to him who waits!" Joe drove to Dillon's Point on the Carquinez Strait early on his day off and tried plug casting with no success. Tried the Creek Chub 703 and resorted to a now popular combination, a Pet Spoon with yellow feathers and a pork-rind tail bait. Still our hero was fishless. The day wore on, but Joe was patient. Around 6 p.m. Joe baited up with a blood worm and his patience was rewarded. Joe finished the day with his legal limit of stripers from 5 to 10 pounds.

A FIRST REPORT of the season of salmon and steelhead in the Happy Camp section of the Klamath River was in my morning's mail. Jim Roads, guide and drifting expert, reports the Klamath very low and clear. Fish are hard to hook, and no big run has started. Ditto the Salmon River.

A late release from the Resources Agency of California Department of Fish and Game notifies that due to falling water levels and rising temperatures only two streams will be restocked with catchable-sized trout this week . . . only Big Sur River, Monterey County, and the Lower Nacimiento River in San Luis Obispo County.

NOTE TO NIMRODS — Only a few days left to apply for special deer hunt permits. All applications must be in the DFG License Section in Sacramento by 5 p.m. Aug. 23.

Back to fishing again — Late evening trolling in the San Pablo Bay is almost red hot. Better call for a seat aboard a party boat, or call Joseph's boatery for a rowboat.

All-Star Guards Tough And Fast

Guard is a rough position in football, for the player has to be fast enough to lead the blocking for the speedy halfbacks, but strong enough to keep defensive men out of his own backfield. Here's a brief sketch on the guards for the all-star game.

SOUTH GUARDS

JOHN BENNETT played both offensive and defensive guard for the Tamalpais High School Indians and is a really hard hitter. He is 5-8, 165 pounds, small for a lineman, but he's very strong. Bennett played varsity ball for three years at Tam. He's another of the many former prep stars who's headed for College of Marin next month.

ED FARINA was an outstanding guard for the Drake Pirates his junior and senior years, specializing in offensive his first year of varsity. He played both guard and defensive linebacker last year and was good enough to win first team offensive all-league and honorable mention defensive all-league honors. He will be one of the biggest guards on the field at 6 feet and 190 pounds.

GARY COTTEN of Tam High was a transfer student from Lawton, Okla., and played two years of varsity for the Indians. He was an offensive guard and played linebacker on defense. He led the Trojans in number of tackles last year, and was named captain and most valuable player. He plans to enter University of California at Berkeley next month.

BOB DOBBS from Novato High was given honorable mention as offensive guard last year as a senior and the year before was named most valuable lineman on the Hornets' junior varsity team. The 5-10, 175-pounder was also on the varsity track and field team two years. He will enroll at Lousiana Polytechnic Institute in September, majoring in law.

NORTH GUARDS

JIM CRISP of Terra Linda High School is listed as a guard, but is known more for his linebacking ability, being one of the top defensive men in the Marin Athletic League last season. He won himself all-league honors at one of the linebacking spots both his junior and senior years. He was also the biggest linebacker in the league at 6-0 and 215 pounds, but was quite agile and had good lateral moves. He was one of the toughest players for his size, 5-11 and 170 pounds. Cotten plans to enter the law enforcement field.

HUP! TWO!—Eve Wydajewski, a WAC pioneer now a civilian secretary at Hamilton Air Force Base, got a chance to return to her role of long ago as a drill sergeant this week when she was assigned to drill the ROTC flight that scored lowest in drilling procedures at Hamilton.

She's Still Not Tired Of The Military Life

Eve Wydajewski of Novato, a civilian secretary at Hamilton Air Force Base, was the 87th woman ever to enlist in the Army and has not tired of military life yet.

Part of her career as a soldier was spent as a WAC drill sergeant at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, and she got a chance to reminisce this week drilling the Reserve Officer Training Corps flight that scored lowest in drilling procedures at Hamilton.

"I had to look in the manual to see what foot to step off on," she admitted, but added that "when I got out there it just came back so naturally."

Mrs. Wydajewski enlisted in July, 1942, and spent four and one-half years in the Women's Army Corps. She was sent to officer candidate school, and left the Army as a captain.

She went into civil service with the military as soon as she returned to civilian life, and now works as secretary to Col. Fred H. Jones, commandant of the ROTC summer encampment.

When thet ROTC training ends next week she will be assigned as secretary to Lt. Col. Frank E. Kirby, commandant of the Air Defense Command Noncommissioned Officers Academy.

She has been at Hamilton 11 years, leaving three times. She has been there for six years this time, and says it is "the longest time I've ever spent in one spot."

She lives at 2207 Center Road, Novato.

Young Describes Voter-Politician Relationship

The quality of politicians depends in large measure on the quality of those who elect them, Assemblyman Pearce Young told San Rafael Kiwanis Club members today.

Speaking at a luncheon at the Mission Inn, Young, who is candidate for State Senate, said that today's complex society calls for a new type of politician, who must emerge from an electorate better informed on issues and more actively participating in civic affairs.

He assailed public misconception of the politician and his contribution to society, saying, "To many people the politician is a comic-strip character who will do anything for votes, including sacrificing of his own principles. Nothing is further from the truth."

The new politician required to meet present-day challenges, Young said, "must have a knowledge of law, government, economics, geography, psychology, and technology."

Gamblers Can 'Play' At 'Night Of Races'

Gamblers will have a chance to try their luck on horse races, poker, blackjack and other games of fortune at the Terra Linda Recreation Center Wednesday at 8 p.m.

All betting, however, will be with play money. The Northgate Lodge of B'nai 'Brith is sponsoring the "night at the races."

Harris Herman is chairman.

Kuchel Calls For Tighter Election Controls In Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing tactics used in California's recent primary campaign, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R - Calif. called today for stronger federal election controls to prevent attempted duping of voters.

Kuchel, assistant Senate Republican leader, introduced a bill to tighten requirements of federal law relating to publication and distribution of political statements.

These controls, he said, are designed especially to apply to the preparation of circulation of facsimile ballots.

Kuchel said in a statement:

"Thousands of privately printed, proganda ballots were used in a contemptible effort to mislead my fellow Californians in casting their primary voters.

"A grafty attempt was made to make then appear official, to duplicate the appearance of the ballots used by the local registrar of voters, which by law are sent to registered voters."

Kuchel said there is an official ballot for each party in the primary as well as an official ballot for non-partisan issues and offices.

"The sponsors of the fraudulent ballot sought to induce the recipient to vote in a certain fashion by trying to trick the recipient into the false belief that was what the 'official' political party organization had decided," Kuchel said.

"Postcards accompanying the marked ballots stated, 'take your marked sample ballots to the polls' and were falsely designated as having been sent from 'Democratic headquarters.'"

Kuchel said belated attempts were made to restrain the distribution of what he called the spurious sample ballots. He mentioned no names.

"In many instances voters never received the official sample ballots but only the fraudulent ones," he said. "The consequence was that a number of voters felt compelled by the apparently official ballot to vote according to the cross-marks."

Kuchel said his proposal would require identification of the person or group responsible for preparing or distributing literature in the form of a notice to voters and impose penalties on attempts to give an impression such material is official.

"The voter has the right to know what is, in fact, campaign advertising and what is not," Kuchel said. "The very thought that voters induced by fraud and deceit may control an election compels the necessity for legislative action."
